Foreword

I am the unread, the thumbed past, the hurried over; I am the Foreword. I may have a message of tremendous import, but who will know, who will scan me? It's the principle of the thing that hurts; it's like having to go to a party—put in your appearance—but then having no one talk to you. This is not an appeal, it is merely a statement of fact. From this situation there is one thing to be gleamed—a feeling of independence. I am free to say what I like as I am talking to myself.

I want to talk about the ties that bind between city and university. The city, Louisville, and the university, the University of Louisville. The city gives, supports, and encourages the school. The school needs, accepts, appreciates, and returns manifold benefits.

Around the rotunda of the Administration building is lettered, "Dedicated by the people of Louisville to the Higher Training and Useful Education of Its Aspiring Youth." The "Youth" of the school have aspired to edit an annual which recognizes the help of these "people".

Dedication

John T. O'Rourke

To John T. O'Rourke, Dean of the School of Dentistry, University of Louisville, who is unselfishly devoting his time and energy so that education will not suffer in this period of national military preparation, The 1941 THOROUGHBRED is respectfully dedicated.

School of Medicine

Schooling for sawbones...

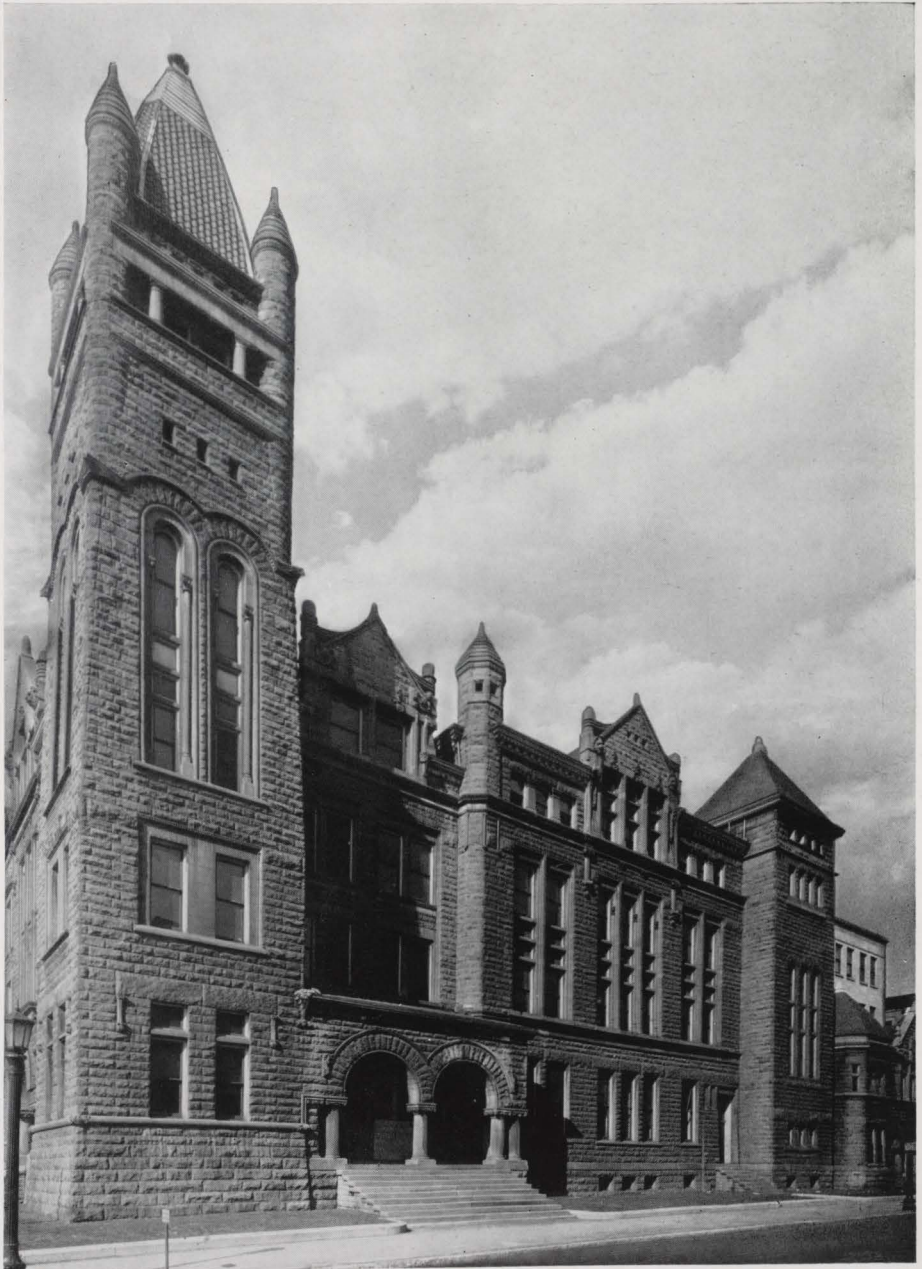

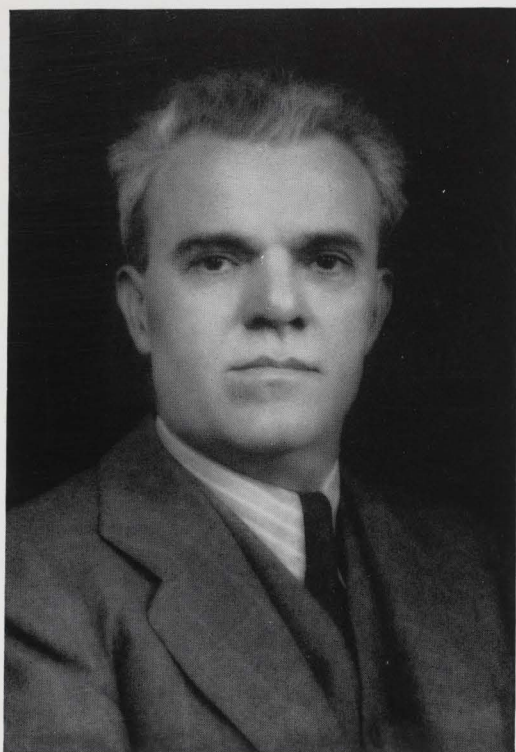

Waverly Hills

The School of Medicine furnishes all professional care of patients at the City Hospital, which otherwise would cost the municipality at least $70,000 a year, as well as all professional care at the Children's Free Hospital and the Mental Hygiene Clinic. This service benefits 74,000 persons annually.

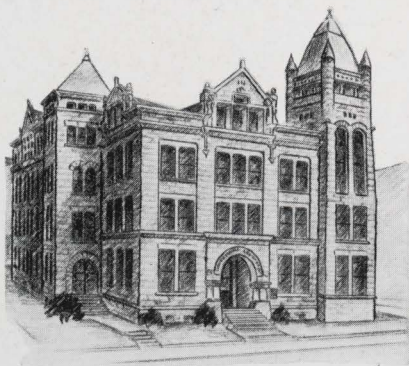

Through affiliation with the Health Department, the Professor of Public Health in the Medical School is also Director of Health for the City. Only four other cities have the advantage of a similar affiliation linking a university medical school with the entire municipal public health program.

School of Medicine

JOHN WALKER MOORE
Dean

In those early times of herb medicine and raw surgery, the medical institution of the city of Louisville was born. It had its inception in the medical unit of Transylvania College, Lexington, Kentucky, and in 1837 inherited the professors and much of the glory of this distinguished old school. Nine years later, it was wise enough to aid in the formation of the University of Louisville.

The next half century, it grew with the rest of medical knowledge and facilities. It gradually changed its teaching methods from those of lectures and apprenticeships to those of laboratory investigations and clinical observations—it saw medicine become a science

Four other medical schools appeared in Louisville within this time, and all competed more or less until their union in 1908 with the Medical Institute to form the University of Louisville School of Medicine.

In recent years, the Medical School has matured. The building, built in the late nineteenth century by the Louisville College of Medicine, has been expanded and modernized. The direct supervision by the Medical School over the City Hospital and the Children's Free Hospital with the teaching affiliations of the Waverly Hills Tuberculosis Sanatorium offers nine hundred and fifty beds for instruction purposes. The control of the city departments of Bacteriology and Epidemiology allow the free access to teaching materials. The mental hygiene clinic is a recent aid in the pursuit of knowledge.

The School of Medicine has the distinction of being the oldest school west of the Alleghenies and the first unit of the oldest municipal University in this country.

Alpha Omega Alpha is a non-secret Honor Medical Society, the aims of which are the promotion of scholarship and research in medical schools, the encouragement of a high standard of character and conduct among medical students and graduates, and the recognition of high attainment in medical science of practice and related fields.

The most prominent requisite of membership is high scholarship in a broad sense. Equal to these qualities comes moral character in its broadest sense, including unselfishness, appreciation of obligation, reliability and honesty in all the affairs of life. No student shall be excluded on the grounds of sex, race, creed, or color, nor shall unpopularity among his fellows or teachers be a bar to his election.

School of Law

the firm hand of the law...*

The Courthouse and City Hall

With its program of Moot Court trials, the School of Law makes great progress in the teaching of court room practice and technique.

The School's briefing service and legal aid participation are of inestimable value to lawyers and laymen alike.

School of Law

J. N. LOTT, JR.

Dean

In the space of a few years the University of Louisville's Law School has undergone sweeping changes, both in physical assets and in its spirit. It has expanded from a dingy, dark building, which threatened to collapse at any moment, to a magnificent structure that is the current envy of all Southern law schools.

The curriculum has been improved, enrollment has increased, and the library and research facilities have been immeasurably strengthened by rare and valuable volumes. The Allen Court Room where students now receive practical experience in the moot court trials was completed last year at great expense and relieves the school of the necessity for going to the Criminal Court downtown to hold its trials.

The past several years have also seen the introduction of an honor system into the school, which works without flaws.

Dean J. N. Lott, Jr. of the Law School is a Southerner by birth, voice, and manner, and received his legal education in the south. He holds his LL.B. from the University of Virginia. Under his administration the School has made many advances which had long existed only as hopes.

The Briefing Service was inaugurated in 1934 for the purpose of preparing briefs for lawyers throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky who do not have adequate library facilities or who are unable to prepare the case for other reasons. Three hundred and one briefs have been compiled during the seven years of the service.

The Briefing Service Staff is composed of students who have ranked high in scholarship and who have excelled in legal research.

The service is rendered without charge. Many benefits flow from such work, for not only does it render a helpful service to the bar of this state, but it also gives the student the kind of experience that he will need in practice.

The Law School branch of the Legal Aid Society supplements the main office of the Society, and is located in the Law Building on Belknap Campus for the convenience of those clients not living near the down-town section. The branch office relieves the pressure on the main office and affords an opportunity for an "internship" to students of the School of Law.

The purpose of the Legal Aid Society is to furnish legal advice and court service to needy individuals who could not otherwise obtain such services because of lack of funds.

The staff of the branch is composed of members of the senior class who have passed the State Bar examinations and who render the advice and do the court work. Members of the junior class on the staff perform duties in the nature of office work and research.

During the past year the branch office has been re-organized and the staff expanded by the addition of more members. Plans are now in operation for a closer co-ordination between the Legal Aid Society and the other social agencies of the community.

Future plans include activities in connection with the development of the proposed Small Claims Court.

School of Dentistry

The school with painstaking courses...

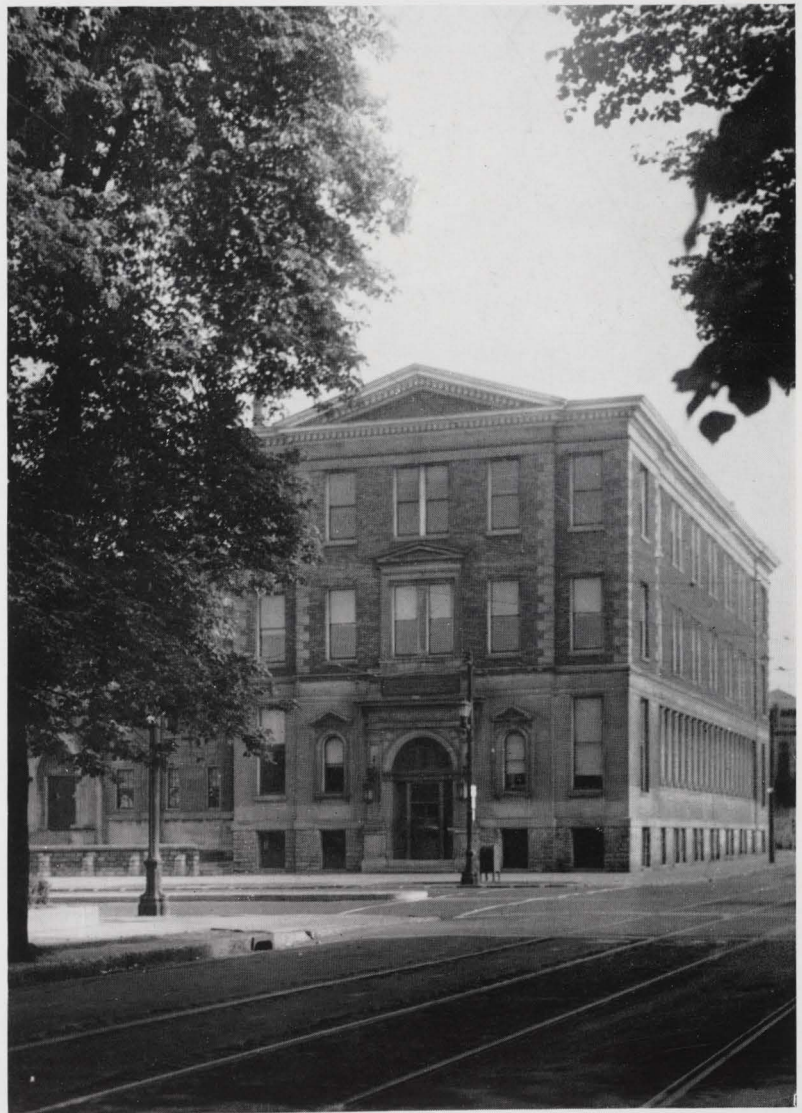

The Clinic at the School of Dentistry

The School of Dentistry, working closely with the public and parochial schools and the City Health Department, provides low cost or free care for an average of 8,500 men, women, and children annually. No other dental school in the country renders a comparable community service.

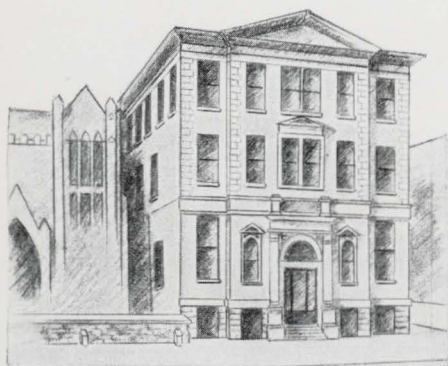

School of Dentistry

JOHN THOMAS O'ROURKE

Dean

Dr. John T. O'Rourke, Dean of the School of Dentistry, University of Louisville, has been connected with the University since his graduation from the Dental School in 1917, having been appointed Dean of the School in 1925.

Born in Saco, Maine, August 18, 1888, Dr. O'Rourke received his preliminary education in the public schools there. He graduated from the Louisville College of Dentistry in 1917, and began work when the University of Louisville College of Dentistry took over the Louisville College of Dentistry. Since his appointment as Dean of the School of Dentistry, Dr. O'Rourke has had several opportunities to accept deanships at other universities; however, the progress which he has initiated at the School of Dentistry has brought him the praise of educators throughout the country.

In 1935, Dr. O'Rourke collaborated as a member of the Curriculum Survey Committee in the publication of A Course of Study in Dentistry. Dr. O'Rourke is a member of the Preparedness Committee of the American Dental Association and a member of the Commission on Rehabilitation and the Sub-committee on Dentistry of the Council of National Defense. As a representative of the latter group, Dr. O'Rourke recently appeared before the Senate Military Affairs Committee to discuss the possibilities of the deferment of military training for dental students until after graduation.

Dr. O'Rourke is founder and until this year was editor of the Journal of Dental Education, a publication of the American Association of Dental Schools. At the present time his latest book Dental Education in the United States, is in the hands of the publishers.

Dr. J. T. O'Rourke has brought much praise to the School of Dentistry, University of Louisville, with his forward looking views of dental education. His new plan for dental education, which requires that the admission requirements and the first two years of the dental course be the same for medicine and dentistry, has been widely discussed and has caused much favorable comment among professional groups and educators.

HONORS GROUP ————— DENTAL SCHOOL

First Row—Alexander Benjamin, Roger Bourassa, J. E. Flocken, R. T. Hurle, Morris Kirschner, William Mangel.
Second Row—A. M. Turoff, Leo Weinbaum, T. M. Wheeler, H. N. Williams, H. K. Wyatt, N. L. Zwickel.

One of the most coveted of rewards in the Dental School is that of membership in the honors group. This is a relatively new idea in dental education, a great progressive stride ahead for the Dental School of the University of Louisville.

The idea behind the honors group is to introduce the student who is acceptable from a scholarship and character viewpoint to the realms of research in the dental sciences. At the end of the sophomore year, students are selected by the honors committee, composed of faculty members, on the basis of initiative, integrity, and scholarship during the first two years of Dental School study. At the beginning of the junior year the chosen few submit to the Dean a subject in which they are interested. If the dental subject selected is considered appropriate, the individual honor student then prepares an outline of the work he hopes to accomplish in his chosen field. He is assigned to a faculty member who is best suited to supervise the student in the latter's field of interest.

Once each week the honors group has a two-hour seminar, the purpose of which is not only the classification of the problems the students encounter in their research work, but also the discussion of latest trends and accomplishments in dental research throughout the world. Each student has an opportunity to present a report of his progress in his investigation of his particular problem. The honor student is also granted permission to use the laboratories and library for as many hours a week as he deems necessary to complete his research problem by the end of his senior year. At the termination of his investigation the honor student reports in a thesis the results of his research.

If the student has applied himself consistently to his problem, maintained a high level of scholarship in his regular academic work, consistently attended the weekly seminars, and, finally, presented a satisfactory thesis to the honors committee, the committee recommends the student to the Dean, to be rewarded at graduation with the degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine with Honors.

The Dean and faculty of the Dental School are to be congratulated for their vision and their efforts to produce better equipped dentists, always keeping in mind the betterment of dental service to the public.

Quotations I'll Remember Them By

During my four years (I hope) at the Dental School, I associated with each of the students in my class at one time or another, and made friends with the majority of them (I believe). The members of the class represented sections of the East, West, North and South, and by the time we were through with the nudity of our freshman year the battle between the North and the South with all its "damnyankees" and "dernrebels" had been revived and refought more than a thousand times. However, after being exposed to the same bombshells and after fighting, side by side, a greater civil war for four years, most of the important issues were settled. In the course of this struggle, remarks were passed from one side of the anatomy laboratory to the other; from one corner of the chemistry laboratory to the other; from one end of the prosthetic technic laboratory to the other; from one part of the operative clinic to the other; from one chair in Ray's hangout to the other. In the years to come, I shall remember my colleagues by particularly special statements made up either by them at certain opportune moments, or by someone else about them at rather inopportune moments. The sum total of these quotations, in my opinion, (and I don't claim to be a psychiatrist), go to make up the character of each fellow student as I saw him at work in dental school.

BAVETTA: That barber's chair ought to be good for bush-wacking. . . . There's nothing like a good plate of spaghetti. . . . The only reason I sing in the choir is that I understand music. . . . Get me a guitar, and let's swing it. . . . I'll have it out with you at the Y. . . . They give a much nicer course in anatomy in Indiana. . . . When you work with acrylics, there's nothing to it. . . . As soon as I graduate, I've got an office just waiting for me to step right in and take over.

BELCHER: That's not the way we do it in West Virginia. . . . I used to live next door to that sorority house when I went to the Campus. . . . Oh teacher, I know the answer to that question! . . . How's that partial denture patient I turned over to you? . . . Looks like he marked me down for lordosis again this year.

BLAIR: Now, girls, don't rush me all at once! . . . I, too, took that aviation course last summer. . . . There's one advantage to filling her teeth. . . . Now, Morehead is a town for you. . . . Gone with the breeze. . . . If dentistry and aviation don't do me justice, there's always my trumpet left. . . . She's a good dancing partner. . . . Who's a shorty?

BOCCIO: You ought to see the way we did it in Washington University. . . . There's nothing like a rubber dam without a strap to hold it up. . . . By hammering in the foils, they stay in better. . . . Cassara isn't the only one who can do it. . . . I knew Iturbi. . . . Has anyone a diamond cutter so I can cut a foil cavity in this artificial tooth?

BOURASSA: Now, if I hadn't been out a whole year. . . . I'm supposed to be out of prosthetics in another week, and look where I'm up to! . . . My brother will take over where I left off. . . . How do they expect us to prepare for all those exams in such a short period of time? . . . I'm going to plug as many class III foils as I can get after the final operative practical.

BUZZELL: This is my favorite brand of cigarettes; I never use anything else. . . . We regret that due to a B. Coli infection of his nares, Dr. B. C. Buzzell will be unable to resume his series of lectures on "Straw Canal Therapy." . . . What's the main difference between a goose quill and a straw? . . . I was just asking that instructor where I could get a drink of water. . . . I was just asking that instructor where I could find the prosthetic clinic. . . . You trumped my straw that time.

COCANOUGH: If I am re-elected number one man, I promise to raise the standards of this class. . . . You're mistaken about Sam being the number one man in school. . . . My name is not pronounced Coocanuger. . . . I may be small, but . . . She was plenty tough to handle.

CRAFT: I was forced into moving at the Delta Sig this year on account of the rents. . . . I've grown quite a bit since my freshman year in dental school. . . . I wonder who has my fraternity pin this time; I can't seem to remember. . . . I've been trying those violet rays on my hair for years, but . . . She tried to hit me on the knob with a beer bottle.

CUMMINS: I tell you Mt. Olivet is a pretty big-sized town. . . . I knew Boone when we were just kids. . . . I just locked myself up in my room and had a party all by myself. . . . Sure I know Jerry Famularo. . . . How's Bill making out? . . . I wonder whether they've got a baby yet? . . . Can you charge according to what the patient's worth? Yes sir!

DODD: I had to get a half inch away with my left eye, and two inches away with my right eye before I could see those letters. . . . I haven't done one fixed bridge this year. . . . When they ask me to read the letters on the board, I'm going to ask, "Which board?" . . . I gained thirty pounds one summer. . . . Who called me Hammerhead?

FRED: I've had to make this denture over again sixteen times, and there's no telling when I'll ever get it done. . . . I like prosthetics. . . . Doctor, I can operate that slide machine any day. . . . I'll bet you I can chew and swallow a lighted cigarette? . . . I'm sorry if I shout every time I ask a question in class. . . . I sang with her over the radio.

HAGGARD: I'll finish this duel with you at the Y.M.C.A. . . . That's the way we do it in Miami, Florida. . . . Why walk, when you can drive to school in comfort? . . . Will you please pass this sheet around so that we can vote for the candidates of the Straw Voters' Club? . . . I don't see why I should take histology, bacteriology, and P. Chem. over again, when I've already had the courses. . . . There's always Northwestern, you know. . . . Hurry up, Claude!

HURLE: What do you do if a partial doesn't fit? . . . I bought twenty Black's cutting instruments from Silverman's for just one dollar. . . . I've got a hatch clamp for class V cavities, but I don't know how to use it. . . . Did you take my spatula to the New York World's Fair this past summer? . . . If I graduate this June, I'm going to give this coat to some nigger. . . . I think I'll cast this inlay with acrylic material.

JACKSON: I think there's a lot of sense to this question. . . . I've never asked any silly questions. . . . Making inlays is as easy as life-saving in a pool. . . . Oh professor—if one and one make two, do two and two make four? . . . Well, isn't that the same definition I gave you? . . . I can remunerate on that if you want me to.

JAYNE: It's not in contact, but I'll get credit for a contact foil. . . . How can I be in operative when I'm in prosthetics? . . . How can I be in prosthetics when I'm in operative? . . . This inlay looks as slick as the gloss in my hair. . . . I use Vitalis on my hair sometimes. . . . I'll bet I can hold a lighted cigarette with the tips of my fingers longer than you can.

KENT: Now, up in the mountains we do it this way. . . . I never take any notes when I listen to the instructor's lectures. . . . I'm a conservative dancer. . . . Who wants to buy some flowers for the formal dance? . . . He's a movie connoisseur. . . . How do you like those rosy cheeks? . . . I didn't mean to leave that newspaper in the flask when I vulcanized that denture at the Delta Sig. Frat House.

KIRSCHNER: If I led the American Youth Movement in Washington, why shouldn't I volunteer to lead the Thoroughbred staff? . . . Do we have to hand in our notebooks next week? . . . That only means we can get as many foils checked as we plugged since the grade cards were handed out, doesn't it? . . . I don't grit my teeth at night any more since I had Marcus balance my occlusion. . . . My open bite and eyesight are going to prove detrimental to me. . . . Down with Communism! . . . Boy, did I have to study and cram at C.C.N.Y.! . . . I was the only one you knew when you came here. . . . She doesn't want to buy this inlay after I already cast it.

LYON: If you can fill a beaver's teeth, you should be able to fill anybody's teeth after that. . . . When am I ever going to check out of prosthetics? . . . You'll have to give me a shot of novocaine if you expect to blow any air on my teeth. . . . I use Moosehide disks and beaver tails to polish inlays with. . . . I was hooked for a dollar for parking in front of a "No Parking" sign all night. . . . I knew Sidi Barani, too. . . . Naples is the place for you.

MCCORD: This isn't a Princeton haircut. . . . The "Purple Hurricane" they called me in those days. . . . Ask her whether or not her husband is a preacher. . . . Did Lentini tell you about Hardrock Smith, Swede Olson, Aaron Schacker, Spec Adair, and Sol Fischer? . . . I sure would like to have my own airplane so I could fly to school every day. . . . The preacher even belonged to the Crack Team. . . . Let's go to Cunningham's for a couple of beers.

MADOW: A man came into my office the other day complaining of a pain in his head, when something popped in his left ear. . . . I agree with Winters as to the number of steps necessary to cross the front of the room. . . . It took twenty-seven rolls of foil to fill that cavity. . . . Watch out for Mockha Moovis. . . . I'm afraid of those class III foils. . . . I'm going to try and get someone to give us a demonstration on making Richmond crowns. . . . If I weren't sick that time, I would have been the big hit of "Lebedicker Welt." . . . It's a polynidal cyst, isn't it? . . . That guy, Paul Klang, used to be my roommate during my freshman year. . . . That Gray Brick Inn was quite a house.

MANGEL: I find this section on the middle ear very interesting although we're supposed to be only up to the first page in the dissector. . . . I'm not trying to rush, it's just that I'm naturally fast. . . . These orthodontic appliances work out swell sometimes. For example, look at my jaw. . . . Just because I walked out of that exam after fifteen minutes doesn't mean that I know my stuff. . . . I've got a nice roommate. . . . I don't feel conceited even though I have the highest average in my fraternity. . . . I'm ambidextrous. What are you?

MARCUS: Wait a minute. . . . Having received two degrees in the old country, I should be considered an authority on cleanings. . . . This geengeeval tissue appears firm enough to me. . . . There is no distinction between physiological pathology and pathological physiology. . . . What is the purpose of that curve on that pluggin point? . . . I used to use gutta percha as a permanent filling material. . . . I made quite a number of orthodontic appliances on the other side. . . . But, madame, I do not know how to jeter-bug.

MILLER: The only reason I wear spats is to prevent my knees from clattering. . . . Get up on the rostrum and try to read that five thousand word essay in three minutes. . . . The best way to clean dentures is to give your patient some orangewood sticks and some pumice. . . . I got that letter "L" from playing football at the campus. . . . I think it's easier to plug a class III foil than to fill the cavity with silicate. . . . Edna is a cute kid, isn't she?

MILLS: I don't know; I guess I'm snake-bitten. . . . Why does everything have to happen to me? . . . There might be some value to this post-graduate work, if they'd only give you credit for it. . . . Johnny Meindel has the best physique I have ever seen. . . . Somebody who is in the know informed me all about those wise men. . . . Do you need any gold shell crowns? . . . I'm originally from Ohio, but I've spent quite some time in Florida. . . . This business of working nights at the Reid Hotel is getting me down.

NEWMAN: Will somebody please help me push this car? . . . Hey, Benny, I'll take a dozen of those short burs. . . . Will you please lend me a dime for a cup of coffee? . . . Will you please lend me three cents for a two-cent stamp? . . . Now, according to the Black Widow. . . . When I went to the campus I did research on the Black Widow. . . . You should have seen the rod I packed when I was a ranger! . . . I'll drive, while Benny can do all his studying in the back of the car. . . . I think I've got a geographic tongue. . . . Does anybody want to buy this car?

PRESSLER: First they teach you one way upstairs, and when you come downstairs they expect you to do it differently. . . . I saw the entire process of manufacturing them in Ohio. . . . You'll have to give me a whiff of gas if you expect to set that inlay in my mouth. . . . Won't you please buy this three hundred dollar gold base denture, Mrs. Jones? . . . Do you want me to write my thesis on salesmanship like a play? . . . Looks like you'll get your salary this month, Miss Schrimmerhorn. . . . Will you please mix some alloy for me. . . . I'm afraid you're not going to be able to get that rubber dam on. . . . What's the matter, couldn't you get away this morning? . . . Don't you go home for lunch anymore? . . . Hurry up, Curtis, or we'll be late for school!

QUINLAN: I don't know how I make those A's in exams. . . . I'll bet you a dollar I won't even make a C in operative. . . . If I am re-elected class president for a fourth term, I promise to . . . Does anybody want to buy a copper graduation key? . . . Does anybody want to buy any graduation announcements? . . . We're due for a beer party now, aren't we? . . . No, I'm not a Delta Sig member. . . . Do you need any partials? . . . What do you hear from Herma? . . . Oops, there goes another honor student!

RILEY: There's plenty to be learned about dentistry at the Prison House. . . . Oh, you don't have to worry about me; I get plenty of sleep while I'm on guard duty. . . . I also get plenty of dessert during my meals. . . . The only reason I'm wearing those dark glasses after that beer party is that the bright light affects them. . . . I learned a lot in oral surgery at the City Hospital this past summer. . . . I've a special bus hired out to take all you volunteers to the Reformatory this Sunday. . . . Once I feel asleep standing up. . . . I used to drive an ambulance in the old days.

ROBERTS: I think I've cast about one hundred inlays this week. . . . Doctor, what's wrong with this fixed bridge? . . . I'm not as young as I look. . . . I used to teach school quite a while back. . . . You don't have to be an honor student to get grades. . . . I wonder why I'm called upon to recite during every lecture period? . . . Have you any spare time to set this inlay?

SCHMITT: Who's a Cassanova? . . . Do you want to hold this puppy for me in your locker until I find its owner? . . . You never saw me hanging around Buzz, did you? . . . I never comb my hair while I'm in school. . . . The only reason I keep that mirror in my locker is for an emergency. . . . I can get that any day, but I can't get this denture out any day. . . . She asked me who that nice boy was. . . . Hold still and get in on this picture with us.

TUROFF: This is Michael Strogoff; I mean Towne, announcing over station WINN, "The Mortality of Classics While I am on the Job." . . . No matter what you think of me, you've got to admit I'm pretty good at making inlays. . . . Yeah, but can you use your hands? . . . So what if I am a self-inflicted student? . . . Are there any extra bulbs lying around the clinic? . . . When Norman Spector sat next to me in the technic laboratory upstairs. . . . Doctor, I don't think this silicate is any good; it can't be my technique that isn't any good! . . . My former roommate, Beagle Beak, may have cleaned up on that Yearbook, but still he was a good student.

WALKER: What this country needs is a good five cent benzedrine tablet. . . . I used to toss them up like pop-corn. . . . Speaking of class average, what do you say we skip it? . . . Hello there, Luigi Romanelli! . . . How's Bella Bella? . . . Well, if it isn't Bela Lugosi! . . . Meet me at the 812 Club. . . . It was fun being a ranger in the summer-time. . . . I stopped at this place in Canada, and . . . Once I went on a six day wake strike.

WEINBAUM: We work side by side at Kaufman-Strauss. . . . Her father is a big surgeon at the City Hospital. . . . She may be small, but . . . Do you want gardenias, roses, sweet peas, or hay seed for a corsage for the formal at the roof garden of the Brown Hotel? . . . I learn as much from filling dogs' teeth up in the Research Lab as I do from working on human guinea pigs in the clinic. . . . We raise cows on our farm. . . . I have one prominent reflex.

WEINSTEIN: Would you like to chip in for a gross of short burs? . . . I can't see why we can't do our pharmacology experiments just as well at Nu-Enamel's. . . . I knew her at the campus. . . . Under my supervision, I guarantee "Lebedicker Welt" to be a hit. . . . I'll have that speed ticket squashed by my brother-in-law. . . . As for Wilma . . . Have you any extra class III foils? . . . Do you need any fixed bridges? . . . When I was running the Milner, I . . . Give me one coke and seventeen glasses. . . . I'll never forget the time Martha called you up while we were studying for the physiology exam on the central nervous system. . . . Naturally, since I am Chancellor of the Alpha Omega, I have pull.

WILLIAMS: You should have seen that two hundred pound bass I caught when I went fishing last week. . . . Now, you have to know how to handle a .22 caliber gun if you don't want it to explode in your face. . . . Here's a little story I heard which will clarify the story you heard about that little incident he heard. . . . Those grades stung me; I can't see how. . . . I'm having the same trouble as B. Craft. . . . Meet me at Fort Knox for a game of golf this afternoon.

WYATT: Does Eleanor approve? . . . Whatever the verdict concerning the Thoroughbred, I'm agin it. . . . Those policies will inevitably lead to dictatorship. . . . What is the effect of a fig seed in stabilizing dentures? . . . He thought I was too cocky. . . . That isn't democratic. . . . I'm afraid I'll have to withhold my opinion on antiseptics and disinfectants or I might start a big controversy. . . . Leo, write down what that says on oral hygiene. . . . Are you going to attend the seminar this morning?

ZIMNY: Has anyone down there any indications for class II foils? . . . What are the chances of a jitterbug dentist getting into the Army Dental Corps? . . . Does anybody want to go up in an airplane with me this Sunday? . . . Poland is still fighting and hasn't been licked yet. . . . I wish I had my license to fly. . . . I was elected the most valuable player on the baseball team when I attended the Liberal Arts School. . . . The only disadvantage to living at Wesley House is that it's too far from school. . . . Now listen doctor, you've got yourself an argument there!

ZWICKEL: It was merely an accident, so help me. . . . I stayed in school all summer to experiment with denture materials for my thesis. . . . I'm afraid I chose a pretty difficult topic. . . . You can't be too choosy about these dates. . . . The only reason I'm taking this upper aluminum baseplate over again is that my patient wants to keep it as a spare. . . . These nails are for retention of the upper denture. . . . It's a good thing I'm the last one on the list.

If, after this essay is read, I haven't a new civil war on my hands, I'll have a collection of memoirs which I can shelf beside my high school and college graduation yearbooks, and from time to time scan through and recollect the good old class of '41 comprising: Gaspare (Bavetta), West Virginian (Belcher), Breezy (Blair), Joe Dandy (Boccio), Row-jay (Bourassa), Buzzy-Wuzzy (Buzzell), Cooooky (Cocanougher), B. Wise (Craft), Bulldog Dummies (Cummins), Hammerhead (Dodd), Yussel, the street singer (Freed), Haggy (Haggard), Red Bobby (Hurle), Stoneuwall (Jackson), Snow Bird (Jayne), Elmer (Kent), Groucho Moe (Kirschner), Bella Beaver (Lyon), Hurricane Mac (McCord), Winters (Madow), Middle Ear (Mangel), Mockus Hans (Marcus), Spats (Miller), Snakebitten Keith (Mills), Alemitie (Newman), Claudius (Pressler), Quint de Quinsky (Quinlan), Wild Bill (Riley), Baby Dumplings (Roberts), Smitty (Schmitt), Michael Strogoff Towne (Turloff), Popcorn-Jake, the snake (Walker), Leo the lion (Weinbaum), Benny the weasel (Weinstein), Lieutenant (Williams), Steve Brodie, Kelly at the Bat (Wyatt), Strong Arm (Zimny) and Speedy (Zwickel).

IN RETROSPECT

Let us go on a pictorial journey through four years of the University of Louisville Dental School.

1. In September, 1937, we entered these portals unaware of what was before us.

2. First we go up to the Freshman Lab for a year of carving teeth and setting-up technique of full upper and lower dentures.

3. With the Sophomore year came the mannikin and our attempt to cut cavities in the upper arch while looking in the mouth mirror.

4. On the second floor is the library where Miss Calvin is always happy to help us find our books.

5. It was in our Junior year that we were introduced to X-ray technique, with Miss Smith pushing our hand to place the X-ray correctly.

6. After X-ray came oral surgery. What a thrill our first extraction was! Dr. Harlowe gave us the fundamentals.

7. As Juniors also, we spent many hours in the Diagnosis Room looking at slides and making blood counts.

8. Through our Junior and Senior years most of our time was spent in the Infirmary.

9. When our time came for full denture Prosthesis we went into the Prosthetic Clinic. Dr. Bustetter and Dr. Randall helped us run through our cases.

10. Up and down the steps we ran to get to the Prosthetic Laboratory. Our hands really took a beating here.

11. We went to Dr. Curd for help with our porcelain jackets, and we spent many hours waiting for them to bake in the Ceramic Laboratory.

12. We spent our leisure time down at Ray's. Drinking Cokes was our favorite pastime.

13. Our lectures were given in the large lecture room. Many sleepy mornings were spent here.

14. In June, 1941, we will leave the school, and then we will have the future before us.

15. What that future is for us is yet to be discovered. In years to come we will look back upon our school days and remember that although we had many heartaches, our joys were also great.

A Senior Week

MONDAY MORNING—

9:00 o'clock

Dr. Myers is speaking. "Today, Gentlemen, I have two important things to cover. First, we will finish discussion of the exam that you took three years ago. I know we only covered the third question so far but we will definitely finish the other sixty-nine questions before the hour is up. Now who will start the discussion on the fourth question? to-wit: The indications for a sixteen unit fixed bridge." Buzzell starts to open his mouth but Di Gangi sitting behind him hits him on the head. Nobody says anything, so Dr. Myers continues to answer the question himself. At a quarter to ten Dr. Myers is still speaking—"So, gentlemen, in conclusion, upon casting, make sure that the bucket is on the casting machine and your gold is somewhere around. I see my time is up but before you go, I have an important announcement. The staff has decided to place a gold foil requirement. We realize that there are only three weeks left until the end of the year so we are making it easy for you—seventy-five class ones and forty-one and a half class threes. But you gentlemen shouldn't have any trouble in getting your indications because we've also reduced the price—fourteen cents for the class one's and seventeen cents for the class three's. (A special of two for thirty cents if placed in the same patient.)"

10:00 o'clock, in the clinic.

Dr. Freericks is taking the attendance. Roberts runs up to him. "Doctor, you didn't mark me late, did you? I know its two minutes after ten but I had to change my gown. I don't know how it got this dirty. I've only worn it for three weeks." Dr. Freericks walks to Bavetta and inquires, "Got a patient?" Bavetta says, "Yes, Doctor," so Dr. Freericks promptly gives him a new patient.

At a quarter to five, after working seven hours (even during the lunch hour) Weinstein has finally completed filling out the Diagnosis Chart for his patient. He raises his hand and Dr. Diefenbach comes a'running on horseback, looks at the chart and disgustedly says, "Doctor, it's incomplete." Where-upon Weinstein faints. Upon revival he sees that there's an order for a prophylaxis on his ticket. (That's been three years ago—he's still trying to get Dr. Diefenbach to check the prophylaxis.)

At a quarter after five, with the clinic all empty, Dr. Freericks is taking the attendance.

TUESDAY MORNING—

9:00 o'clock

Dr. Randall is busy putting little pieces of paper together so that he can call the attendance. He's been using the same list of names for two years. After pronouncing every name exactly the way it shouldn't be pronounced; for example, Co-co-nu-ger and Kirschmer, he is ready for the lecture. For two hours he talks about the physiological, biological, mechanical, and chemical properties of a gold base plate which has been cast in aluminum.

11:00 o'clock

Kent, finishing a class two amalgam preparation, is suddenly distracted by a quizzical remark from Dr. Sprau about his progress. Kent hands him the mirror to check the amalgam preparation. Dr. Sprau inspects the cavity and stupefies Kent with his question on the lack of the bevel.

1:00 o'clock

Madow is beginning a porcelain jacket crown. The patient is shaking, Madow is shaking and so is the cabinet. Miller, working adjacent, is putting all these moments to use for vibrating an investment model for an inlay. Madow calls Dr. Curd to check the cavity preparation. All that's left is a small stump of tooth structure. Dr. Curd is speaking; at first Madow understands him but after a while it seems that he's talking about the rice situation in China, so Madow decides to give him a little double talk. This goes on until five o'clock.

WEDNESDAY MORNING—

9:00 o'clock

The Senior class is dressed in their most professional manner. The Dean walks in, very dignified, but loses all his composure when he trips on the steps going up to the Rostrum. Today's lecture, for a change, is on Function and Removing the Cause.

10:00 o'clock

Walker finally comes to school but upon arriving the clinic looks so strange he decides he better go home and rest some more. The news spread that the Dean is out for the day playing golf. Quinlan, desirous to show that he's really the president, tells everybody they can have the day off. Dr. Freericks is in a dilemma. How can he take the attendance with everybody gone? He decides that the best thing to do is develop a cough and also take the day off.

THURSDAY MORNING—

8:00 o'clock

Dr. Seldon is lecturing. The class assembled (all five) listened to a private discussion between he and Schmitt. So passes the hour.

9:00 o'clock

The Dean rushes into the lecture room waving a paper. "Wire a telegram, write a letter or send a stamp to your Senator to pass the Murray Bill."

10:00 o'clock

Mangel has a patient who needs a space maintainer. He calls Dr. Selden who tells him that the procedure would take too long to complete and that they couldn't undertake it at the school this year.

1:00 o'clock

There's a big noise in the clinic. Dr. Randall screams, "Jayne belongs in Prosthetics." Dr. Freericks shouts, "No, he belongs in Operative." Bewildered Jayne finally throws up his hands and goes to the City Hospital for Oral Surgery.

2:00 o'clock

Dr. Freericks is cutting a preparation for Turoff. The latter is busy preparing a paper on silicate.

3:00 o'clock

Dodd is having trouble getting near his patient. Another part of his anatomy reaches the patient first.

4:00 o'clock

Bob Hurler wants to call Dr. Rivers to help him with an inlay, but Dr. Rivers is too busy sharpening instruments with his eyes closed and his hands behind his back. He brought all his instruments from the office to sharpen at the clinic.

5:00 o'clock

Dr. Freericks is taking the attendance outside the building.

FRIDAY MORNING—

8:00 o'clock

Dr. Hume is lecturing on the removal of an impacted fifth molar. Naturally the patient has a lot of grief and worry and finally dies. At the end of the lecture he puts on his brand new Stetson hat and leaves.

9:00 o'clock

The Senior class is having a meeting. Wyatt says he will be glad to be editor of the Thoroughbred except that he's writing a paper on the use of the bottle which contains anti-septics and disinfectants.

10:00 o'clock

Belcher is trying his darndest to check out of prosthetics. He's only been there three months. Bourassa is running him a close second. They're trying to find who can stay in that department longer. Dr. Bustettar is heartbroken because a patient came to Prosthetics completely edentulous, just when he was in the mood to do an immediate replacement.

1:00 o'clock

McCord and Blair are discussing the time they took their first airplane trip. Zimny walks over and tells them that if they're real good boys he'll take them for a ride.

2:00 o'clock

Marcus calls Dr. Freericks to check a crown preparation. Dr. F. says that there is not enough bevel on the inlay cavity. Marcus tries to tell him that it's a crown preparation, but Dr. Freericks changes the subject and tells him that the lack of the bevel will affect the temporo-meandibular joint, and that he should look up the old Black Vol. II.

3:00 o'clock

Weinbaum has a dog in his chair and calls Dr. Van Huysen. Dr. Van takes a mirror and says, "What a nice set of teeth on this child."

4:00 o'clock

Dr. Freericks is taking the attendance down at Ray's.

5:00 o'clock

Freed is beginning to plug a class three foil for the sixth time.

SATURDAY MORNING—

8:00 o'clock

Dr. Sprau is figuring out the price for an amalgum. After prolonged calculation, he finally figured that the cost of an amalgum filling is twenty-six cents and fourteen mills.

9:00 o'clock

Dr. Freericks says that there is no such thing as normal. His lecture is entitled "How about your questions?"

10:00 o'clock

Zwickel brings a patient to Dr. Harlowe for an extraction. Dr. Harlowe begins to scrub up. After two hours of this operation he realizes that it's twelve o'clock and he won't have time for the extraction. Zwickel decides he better not talk too much, and tells his patient to come back next year. So ends the Senior week.

The Straw

If you can't plug a gold foil—STRAW
If you're late for the roll call—STRAW
The "bull" is mightier than the pen;
That's a tip to all you men,
SO STRAW.

If you can't pass a "written"—STRAW
If the teeth ain't "a-hitin"—STRAW
It's a true work of art,
But you haul it in a cart,
THE STRAW.

If you can't learn the stuff—STRAW
If you can't run the bluff—STRAW
In the proper direction
It will work to perfection,
THE STRAW.

If you anger the Dean—STRAW
If your thinkin' ain't keen—STRAW
It's an effective old quill
Like a laxative pill,
THE STRAW.

If it's skill that you lack—STRAW
If you can't use your "jack"—STRAW
But insert it with care
For the thing may hurt there,
THE STRAW.

If your grade is a flunk—STRAW
If your filling is punk—STRAW
But handle it well
Lest it break all to h—,
THE STRAW.

The Speed Scientific School

*Builders of tomorrow...
plumbers and things...*

High Tension

The Speed Scientific School is serving local industry in the various branches of engineering research. It is one of the nation's three outstanding educational research centers for the paint industry. In addition, the School's laboratories are used extensively both by municipal departments and individual concerns for all sorts of tests.

Speed Scientific School

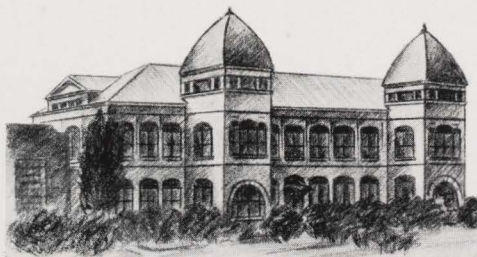

FORD LEE WILKINSON, JR.
Dean

Dean Ford Lee Wilkinson, Jr., was born in Elkton, Ky., August 14, 1895. He attended the University of Georgia and the U. S. Naval Academy from which he graduated in 1918. He received his M.S. from Columbia University and in 1927 retired from active naval service.

Since that time he has been chief engineer of the Bureau of Smoke Regulation of Knoxville, Tennessee, President of the Knoxville Technical Society, and Chairman of the Knoxville Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He is a member of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, Tau Beta Pi, and Sigma Tau, and is co-author of a text on air conditioning.

Dean Wilkinson came to the University of Louisville from the University of Tennessee where he was head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering.

School of Music

School with E. A. (Esthetic appeal)...

Louisville War Memorial Auditorium

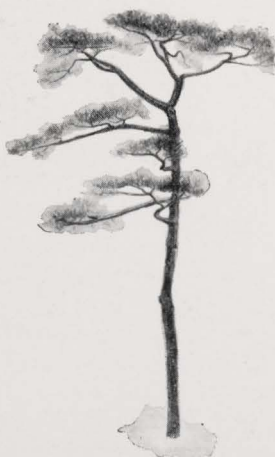

And certainly in the fine arts, music, and the drama, the University of Louisville's most important center of inspiration and service, whose influence reaches out far and wide for enrichment of the City's cultural life.

School of Music

DWIGHT ANDERSON
Dean

The University of Louisville has been well-known for expanding its services to the community and for filling needs when they occur. For instance, when the old Louisville Conservatory of Music closed its doors because of financial difficulties, our University supplied a School of Music to afford cultural advantages to the city. Had it not been for this opportune substitution there would have been a wide gap in Louisville's educational circles. Therefore, the University may be proud that the founding of the School of Music has proven itself indispensable to the civic life of Louisville.

As for the School of Music, it in turn has certainly met the needs of its students. Not only has it provided ample opportunity to students for self-expression, but also its faculty has planned a wealth of interesting programs which are presented throughout the year, the foremost aim of which is to offer incentive and inspiration to students.

The year 1940-1941 has been an active one for the School of Music. One of the most outstanding events of the year was the week's visit of Mr. Stanley Chapple, noted English conductor and critic, under its auspices. While here, Mr. Chapple visited classes, lectured at an all-University convocation, and led discussions at various club meetings.

In recent years, the School of Music has played a major part in radio programs. This year a fifteen-minute program has been given every Sunday and has been known as the "Music Room." Dwight Anderson, pianist and Dean of the School of Music, has alternated with Fletcher Smith, teacher of voice, in presenting the programs. Ruth Cumbie Smith, an important newcomer to the faculty this year, has accompanied her husband on each program. Last fall, Mr. and Mrs. Smith gave a joint recital at the Woman's Club auditorium which aroused widespread local interest. Mr. Smith sang the entire song cycle of Schumann's Dichterliebe and Mrs. Smith played Schumann's sonata in G major. In addition, she and Grace Whitney, cellist, presented a series of recitals in January especially for music students. Dr. Gerhard Herz, teacher of Aesthetics, was commentator for these recitals.

Another excellent example of what the School of Music offers its students and townspeople is the Chamber Music Series, which presents three concerts a year. This year audiences were fortunate to hear Ralph Kirkpatrick, harpsichordist, and Lois Wann, oboist, in joint recital, the Belgian Piano-String quartet, and the Coolidge String quartet. Thus we see what our faculty offers its students.

Another phase in the activities of the School of Music finds the faculty and students working together. Their combined efforts are emphasized in the "pop concerts," to which the public's response has been most encouraging. In these presentations the University orchestra, band, and chorus are active and important participants.

Most characteristic of the student body's contribution are the regular Thursday afternoon recitals. This year the two recitals most worthy of comment were devoted respectively to Bach's two-part inventions and Brahms' waltzes.

From the preceding facts it is evident that the School of Music justifies its important place in the cultural life of Louisville. Each year it strives to find new ways of satisfying the students', as well as the community's, musical interests.

CARDINAL COACHES

JOHN CECINI

JOHN HELDMAN

TOM LEAHY

LAURIE APITZ

The Board of Strategy for the 1940 football season was the same that the year before paced the Cardinal gridders to their most successful season in a decade.

Lawrence E. Apitz, the guy with the granite grin, was Head Football Coach. He was assisted by John Cechini, the California pepper-pot whose locker room warning, "15 minutes!", was a sharp clarion call for practice each afternoon.

When John Heldman and Tom Leahy weren't busy with the Baby Birds, they chipped in to help with the varsity tutoring chores. Leahy, hard pounding blocking back in '39, aided in the backfield. Heldman was a gridiron counterpart of Kit Carson. He scouted opposition. Football sleuth Heldman, as keen and discerning as a veteran prize-fight second sizing up an opponent, never missed a trick.

Apitz and Cechini were the first to report for duty, leading 32 grid stalwarts to the Pewee Valley Training Camp a week before the opening of school. Notorious in the past for the mayhem it committed against the gentlemen of the press, camp was singularly mild in 1940 in that respect. The boys worked hard on their football, then broke camp two days ahead of schedule because of inordinately cold weather for that time of year.

P.E.P.

P.E.P. was founded in the fall of 1938 in an effort to organize the school spirit of the students of the University. During its three years of existence, P.E.P. has become increasingly important on the campus. It sponsors pep rallies and bonfires before home football games and organizes motorcades to nearby towns to watch the Cardinals play. Victory parades after football games are another phase of activities planned by P.E.P., and the people of Louisville have become much more conscious of the successes of the University and its football as a result of the enthusiastic participation of the students in the undertakings of P.E.P.

The cheerleaders, who add much to the excitement and color of the football games, are also sponsored by P.E.P. Eugenia Stuart, the head cheerleader, along with her seven associates, has done a great deal to increase the effectiveness of student cheering at games and has written and introduced many new cheers. Altogether, P.E.P. has really pepped up the campus, put new life into football games and has done a great service not only to the football team by making them feel that they have the whole-hearted support of the student body, but also to the community, by demonstrating that the University of Louisville is something to be proud of.

The Winning Float

The 1940 Football Squad

The gentlemen domiciled on Capitol Hill in Washington on August 13, 1940, weren't the only ones rushing the preparedness program. The University of Louisville Board-of-Strategy, headed by Generalissimo Laurie Apitz, started gridiron conscription on that day and rallied together all available footballers with the Boy Scout motto: "Be Prepared."

The first draft netted 10 cleated candidates who were armed with shoes, the season's first pigskin manual and instructions to start field maneuvers immediately.

Football, Apitz told the first batch of recruits, who later were bolstered by additions when the squad reported at the Pewee Valley Training Camp, is like war, for the unit best prepared in man-power, in attack, in morale and in spirit, will win. In some respects, he outlined, the Cardinals were seriously hampered, for the school had lost nine of its most potent weapons: End—Lou Zimlich; Tackles—Charlie Hampton and Dick Oldham; Guard—Freddie Schloemer; and Backs—Tom Leahy, Don McKay, and Harold Turner.

Nonetheless, the team faced one of its toughest schedules: Indiana State Normal, University of Cincinnati, Evansville College, St. Joseph's College, Georgetown, Hanover, and the University of Long Island.

The Cardinals won 3, lost 5 and tied 1.

All things considered, the team fared none too badly. Failure to capitalize on some "breaks" and the providing of "breaks" for the opposition cost them at least two games which they should have won.

There were only three seniors on the squad—Barney Smith, a guard; Jimmy Caufield, captain and end; George Reiling, a center. The remainder of the team shaped up with 14 juniors and 15 sophomores. The boys were "green", young, light and fast. Their average weight was 172 pounds, average height was 5 feet 11 inches and average age 19½ years. The line averaged 181 pounds, the backfield 162.

INDIANA STATE

Scarlet was a most appropriate color after the Cardinals failed to score a touchdown after having set up a first down on Indiana State's one-yard line early in the third period. That was the situation after Tom Coleman blocked a punt and "Jumbo" Moore recovered.

But four tries at the stubborn Hoosier line failed and the game ended 0-0. A season's opening crowd of 2,500 saw a good game, as early season games go, and certainly one that the Cards should have won—not because they outplayed the sturdy squad from Terre Haute, but because of that one superb break.

CINCINNATI

For almost four quarters, a gallant Cardinal eleven repulsed wave after wave of pulverizing attacks deep in their own territory before, worn and battered by a far heavier University of Cincinnati, they tasted defeat, 7-0, at Nippert Stadium before 7,000 fans.

With less than three minutes remaining, the Bearcats intercepted a Card pass on their own 45, and then, five plays later, took to the air from the 15 for their lone tally. From the outset, the overwhelmingly favored Cats displayed their superiority, but it was a great defensive Cardinal crew that time and time again staged breathless, thrilling goal-line stands. Clure Mosher, hefty center, performed brilliantly, intercepting two passes and turning in a bang-up defensive game. He shared honors with Sophomore Fullback Hugh Wright, whose talented toe kicked the Cards out of danger time and time again.

EVANSVILLE

The Cardinals converted an Evansville miscue into a fourth quarter touchdown to trample the Aces, 13-7, for the third successive year before 1,500 shirtsleeved fans at Evansville.

It was the ponderous hulk of Norbert Elbert—who two years before didn't know the difference between a line buck and a gin buck—that plunged over from the two yard line in the third frame after Hugh Wright set up the play with an end sweep from the 11.

The Cards came from behind a 7-6 lead in a 2½ hour game, which, played in a broiling sun, was alternately wild and listlessly dull.

A punt was blocked on the Evansville four by Lou Schloemer where Tony Sgroi passed to "Jumbo" Moore for the first touchdown.

ST. JOE

A heavier St. Joseph's College eleven gave a home-coming crowd at Rensselaer, Indiana, something to cheer about when they defeated the Cardinals, 24-6, before 2,500, to avenge the Cardinals stunning, upset triumph of the year before.

An interplay of fisticuffs between Captain Jimmy Caufield and Evansville's Joe Kene sparked the Cardinals to their first and only touchdown. Until the last quarter, when a weary and battered starting eleven was supplanted by reserves, the Cardinals and Pumas battled on fairly even terms.

The loss was the Cardinals' worst in three years.

An intercepted pass by Lou Schloemer placed the ball on the Puma 23. Sgroi, on a reverse, went to the 13. Wright and Elbert bucked to the 8, from where Wright swept his own right end for the touchdown.

CENTRE

Centre's Praying Colonels came to Louisville nursing a desire for revenge and gained it in copious quantities at Maxwell Field before a crowd of 5,000. Bombarding the Cards with a devastating long-range air attack, mixed in with power running, the boys from Danville atoned for the 0-0 tie U. of L. sprang the year before at Danville.

The player who dropped the biggest bomb in the nocturnal blitzkrieg was Jack Haddock, who hurled all four touchdown passes and place kicked all four extra points for the Colonels' 28-0 triumph.

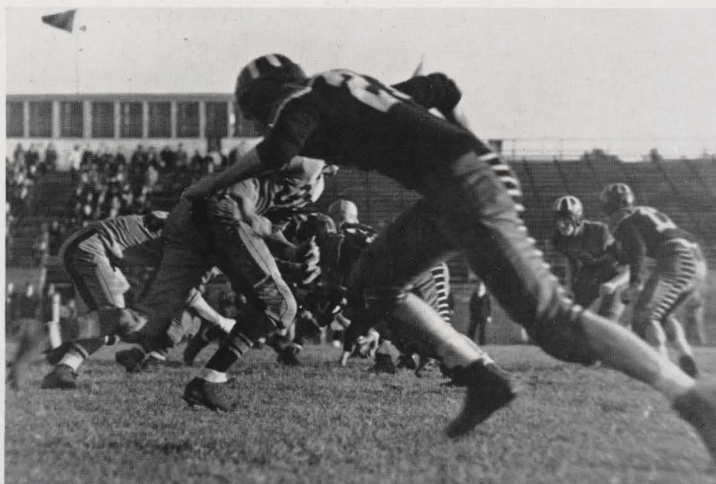

The Cardinals, playing far below expectations, rarely had possession of the ball, and when possession was gained, the closest it could come to scoring was the Centre 40 yard line. The Cards were helpless on pass defense, and ragged on their tackling and blocking.

Tony Sgroi, right half, was injured while making a tackle and suffered a severe concussion that benched him for the remainder of the season.

ALFRED HOLBROOK

A savage Cardinal crew committed little short of mayhem as it amassed its most substantial victory margin in nine years by drubbing a light and small, but scrappy, Alfred Holbrook, 38-7, in a nocturnal game at Maxwell Field before 2,000 sweating fans. The truculent Cardinals, smarting under two previous thumpings, clicked in a fashion that warmed the hearts of Cardinals fans. The Cardinals pulverized the Buckeye line and were devastating in the air lanes.

Jimmy Rosenfield, coming into his own for the first time, paced the Cardinals to two early touchdowns.

GEORGETOWN

The Cardinals pounded out an early lead over Georgetown and appeared destined to score their first triumph in four years over the Tigers. But Bob Evans' boys pulled another late game rally to snatch victory from the hands of the Cardinals, 19-14.

It marked the fourth time in four years the Cardinals suffered a let-down with a lead and Georgetown came from behind in the waning moments to spill the Apitzmen.

Coach Laurie Apitz, refuting a story in a local paper which claimed the Cardinals lost because they broke training rules, said: "We lost because we didn't have the reserve punch necessary to stop the late Tiger rally and because our regulars, busy with classes until 4:40 and 5 p.m., can't get enough practice."

HANOVER

With Seniors Jimmy Caufield, Barney Smith and "Zeke" Reiling playing their last game against the Hoosiers, the Cardinals piled up an early lead to edge Hanover College, 14-13. Two hundred noisy Louisville partisans made the trip across the river.

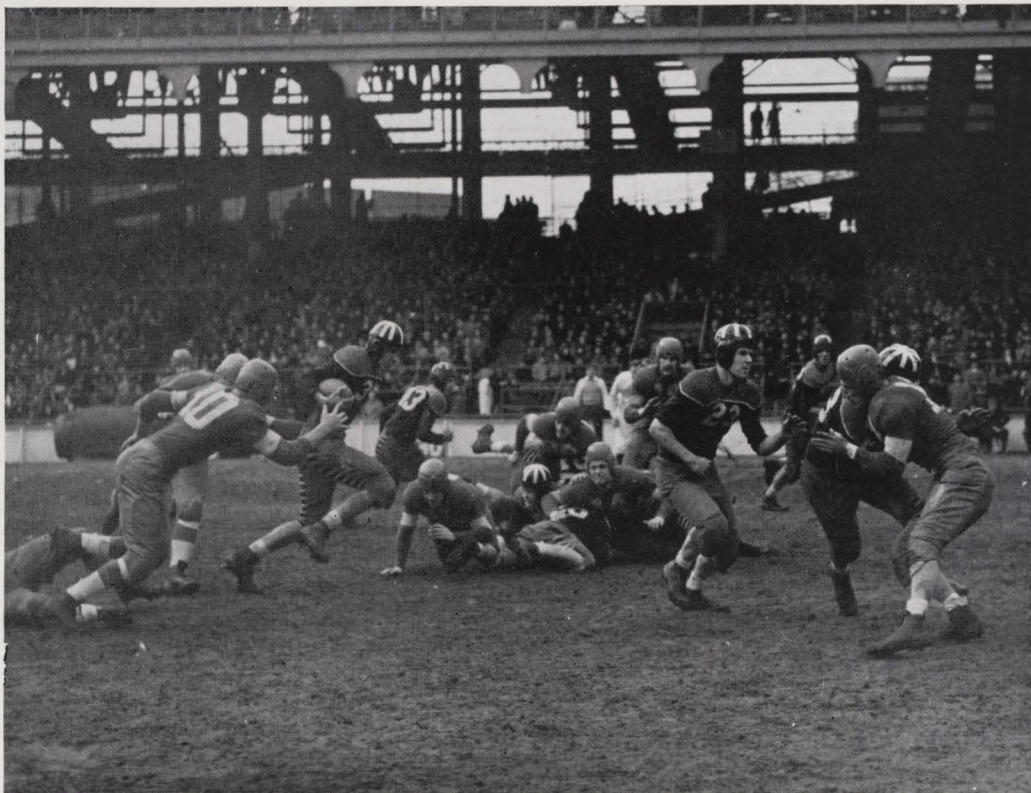

The Cardinals amassed a 14 point lead and looked as though they were headed for additional markers when Hanover staged a pounding rally.

Hefty Tom Coleman blocked a kick on the 5 where Charlie

Isenberg picked it up and romped over for a touchdown in the first three minutes of play. The Cardinals waged a devastating ground attack as the second half opened, ramming their way to a touchdown after a blistering 87-yard march that culminated in Hugh Wright's cutting off left tackle from the four for a tally.

The score belies the mastering hand the Cardinals held throughout, however, as they turned in their best game since the Cincinnati fray.

LONG ISLAND

Touched by a case of nerves in their first intersectional battle, the Cardinals lost to the University of Long Island, 29-6, before 11,534 shivering fans at Ebbet's Field in Brooklyn, New York.

The Birds served the Easterners their first three scores in a gold plate, with all the trimmings. The Long Islanders, heavier and more experienced than the tiny, but courageous, Southern troupe, scored their first three touchdowns on Cardinal miscues.

Spurred on by Wright and Rosenfield, the Cardinals scored their only touchdown on a 55 yard trek down the field.

A week of steady rain churned the turf into a crater of mud. It was the Cards' last game of the season.

Almost as gruelling and exhausting as the game itself, was the trip. Two hours after arriving in New York, the team was reviewing Radio City. A practice session in the afternoon, dinner, a skull practice in the hotel that night, and the team was ready for the game.

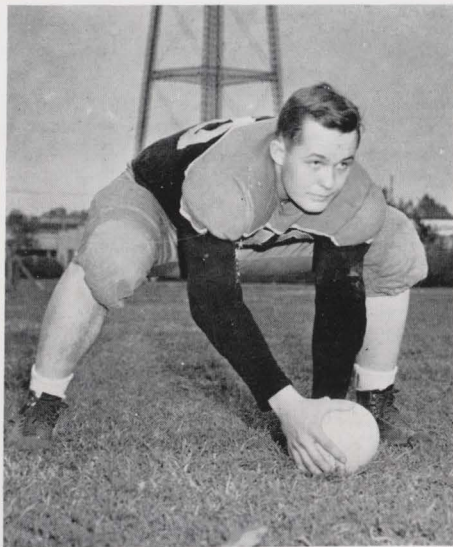

They went down to an honorable defeat, so it was with no misgivings that they took over New York after the game. First, a professional hockey match at Madison Square Garden. Then to Radio City broadcasts and a tour of the city's hot spots. Sunday morning a sight-seeing tour, topped off by a professional football game at the Polo Grounds, rounded out the tour.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS AND AWARDS

Jimmy Rosenfield

Clure Mosher

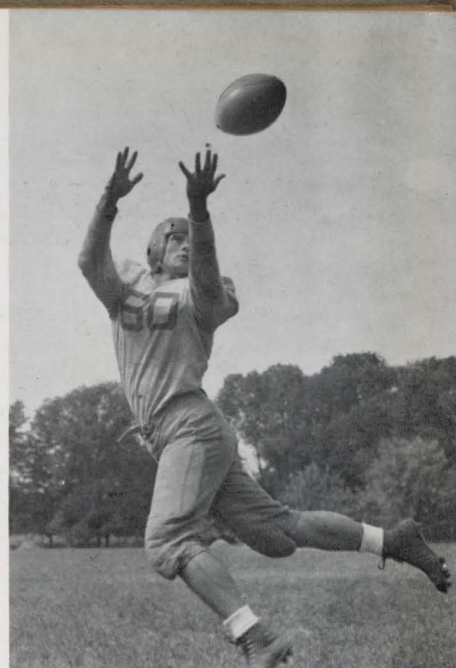

The 1940 football season brought forth its stars just as do all seasons. The number and type this year at the U. of L. has changed, however. When the smoke had cleared away after a more or less successful season the Cards found that two of their number had made the Kentucky All-State roster. They placed one man on the first team and one on the second team. The men were respectively, Charlie Isenberg, tackle and Clure Mosher, center. These two lads were almost sixty minute men notwithstanding a great deal of competition.

Isenberg, a Male High product, finished his second year of varsity ball with an excellent record. An aggressive, hard-charging tackle, he was in on every play, was always on the alert. Although injured seriously at Long Island he should be able to give the Red and Black another All-State year next season.

Mosher, a Chicago emigre, proved his All-State calibre through his successful conversion from fullback to center. At the pivot post he held his position so well that hardly any ground was gained through the center of the U. of L. line. The accuracy of his centering increased the efficiency of the backfield while constant pass interceptions kept the Cards always in the ball game.

At the beginning of the 1940 season a new captain trotted out on the field to practice. Jim Caufield was that captain. He was the first to arrive at practice and the last to leave even though a Speed student. The 1941 season was Jim's third on the varsity squad and third as a regular Cardinal wingman, starting 23 games in his collegiate career. The spirit that he showed was always an inspiration to the team and even when the team was in the hole his enthusiasm never died. At the end of the season he was given the Kiwanis Sportsmanship Award. He was a model captain and a real pal to his teammates. His leadership of the varsity team is an inspiration to be remembered.

On the return trip from New York, at the end of the 1940 season, a battered and bruised squad got together to plan a triumphant 1941 campaign. At this time they chose co-captains to lead them in the football wars for the coming year. The men elected were Jim Rosenfield, star halfback, and Clure Mosher, center. These two lads have played outstanding ball at U. of L. for two seasons. Rosenfield starred at Manual as a seat back and came on to U. of L. only to be picked as a potential great for the coming season by the papers. An ankle injury has held Jim down but as the time has passed Jim is regaining his old form and will be a real leader for the coming season. Clure Mosher, hard-hitting center, is an ideal leader for the team. He quickly realizes opposition tricks in time to save many ball games. He should, along with Jim, be able to guide the Cards through another even more successful gridiron season.

BASKETBALL

1941 Basketball Squad

The toss-up for the first game of the 1940-41 basketball season marked the beginning of a new era in U. of L. basketball history. At the beginning of this season a new coach replaced Mr. Apitz in the net sport. Veteran of Card baseball wars, John Heldman, replaced Coach Apitz as varsity net coach. This seemed to spark the team to greater efforts. In early season practice they looked like a coming ball club. Coach Heldman refused to be too optimistic, however, for it was his first year and he firmly believed that it would take a while to accustom the boys to his system.

As a nucleus for his team he had lettermen Slater, Sheeley, King, Andrews, and in addition Orville Maish, Stultz, and Kasden from last year's Frosh. Other additions were Jim Craik, Hervey McClellan and Kenny Sipe, all of whom played a great deal in the subsequent season. The veterans showed well in practice but the biggest surprise was Aaron Andrews, flashy Indiana star, who had failed to respond under Mr. Apitz. "Andy" seemed to perk up under Mr. Heldman's urging and the repertoire of shots and footwork that he revealed under pressure were a revelation to his coach and teammates. King, 1939 K. I. A. C. center, looked a cinch to be in better form than ever and the whole ball club looked much improved.

The season opened with the annual Varsity-Alumni game and the fans' hopes were high as the revamped Cards whipped their elders 43-38. The official opener with Kentucky Wesleyan was dropped 34-28 and rooters' hearts dropped with it. With a continuation of the season spirit sank more and more as play continued to resemble the previous season more and more. The night of the Berea game arrived. The Cards had lost 11 straight and Berea boasted a better team than usual. One which certainly didn't look as though it would stand for an old U. of L. jinx. Berea boasted Green, a man-mountain center with an eagle eye. The game began and the Cards with Andrews leading the way completely befuddled the Mountaineers including Green. The score, U. of L. 44, Berea 36. The Cards had won their first game. It still did not seem possible and fans on both sides screamed jinx. The team, however, took it as a matter of course. They had been "hot" and they had won. They wanted to prove that it was no mistake and at the same time smash the "three games in three seasons" record that they were about to establish. They tried hard but in the next two games they absorbed a second beating for the season by the old rival, Centre 44-29 and also a loss to Georgetown. The last game of the regular season rolled 'round. The opponent was Transylvania. The Cards got hot and Transy got beat 52-36. The stigma had been taken from the name of the team. The Cards rolled on to the tournament in a merry manner only to be knocked off there by Morehead in the first round. The score being 32-19. The first chapter of the new era was over quite successfully. The new coach was quite satisfied and looking forward to the 1942 season.

At the end of the season Co-captains for the past season were chosen. Walt Slater and Joe Sheeley were elected. Both were seniors and complete their time with the Cardinals in the diamond sport since both are excellent ball players. Guards both, they contributed a great deal to the spirit and the defense of the team. While Sheeley was sick during a part of the season he still played a great deal of ball. Slater was the center of the defense during the entire season and made his share of the points as well. The choice of these boys as captains was unanimous.

At the same time that the '41 team captains were elected co-captains were elected to lead the team through the 1942 season. Those elected were Bob King and Aaron Andrews. These two boys were outstanding on the team the entire season and scored a large number of points between them. King was all K. I. A. C. center in the 1939 selections and this season Andrews was chosen on the same team. They will guide the team to an even more successful season in 1942.

Surprises galore marked this past basketball season. New faces on the basketball horizon, Sipe and Craik, created a flurry in rooters' hearts and gave the team new spirit. Attendance at the games was much larger and students showed an awakening interest in the net sport.

1941 Baseball Squad

BASEBALL

The 1940 Cardinal Nine lived up to the championship standards set by the two previous Heldman clubs in coping nine victories as against only two defeats.

The team was blessed with top-notch hurling in the three tall righthanders, George Crutcher, John Stultz, and Wally Franks. Coach Heldman almost had to flip a coin to decide which one to start. The catching staff was one of the best in U. of L. history with the speedy Harold Turner and Charlie "Rosar" Roberts handling the slants. Turner, who led the team in batting and stolen bases was used in right field most of the time so that both he and Roberts might be in the line-up simultaneously.

The infield was entirely new with Bob King, who slugged .341 at the initial sack, Joe Sheeley at second, "Boots" Kissler, whose fielding belies his monicker, at short, and Clure Mosher guarding the hot corner. In the outfield were Walt Slater and Hayes Holmes, the Cardinal Damon and Pythias act, and the above-mentioned Turner. Slater and Holmes led the Cards in runs-batted-in and total bases.

This spring Coach Heldman was faced with the task of finding a reliable second baseman and a couple of flingers to help out Wally Franks since Crutcher and Stultz were lost by graduation. At this writing Heldman was still experimenting with Herb McClelland, Phil Reverman and Lee Wedekind at the keystone, but all three find it tough to equal the matchless play of Freddy Elliston, star of '37-'39 era. In the pitching department it looks like Wally Franks will have to assume the "iron man" role. Walt Slater looks like the only chap capable enough to assist Wally, but he is needed in left field. Jagers, Ware, and Roney are all working hard but lack the speed and control necessary to cope with College hitters.

The catching is being handled by the colorful "Chunky Rosar" Roberts, who is being assisted by the drawling Mississippian, Joe Martin and Harry "Barrister" Neal.

The infield is the same as last year with the exception of second base, i.e., King first, Kissler short, Mosher third. With the experience gained last year these lads already show signs of molding into a red-hot infield. Wedekind is available for duty at either first or third, the above-mentioned McClelland and Reverman for second, "Bud" Boyle for short, and rookies, Graham and Morris also being carried.

The outfield presents three veterans all serving their last year. In left is the hard-hitting Slater; in center for his fourth season, another power hitter, Holmes; and in the sun garden, the Cardinals' "Hot Potato" Joe Sheeley. The Kessinger twins are learning the tricks of the trade from this trio.

In the first encounter of the season, the Cards whipped Oberlin, the alma mater of Coach Heldman, by 5-0. Wally Franks let them down with only one scratch blow and fanned ten. Holmes and Slater led the attack for the Cards.

The second game was a heartbreaker for our boys when they lost to the Western Hilltoppers by 4-2. Franks allowed only four hits, but he received shaky support from the infield. Another factor was the unusually anemic hitting by U. of L., the team gathering only two bingles.

The Cards gained sweet revenge on Western when they pounced on them the following week for a 20-8 swamping. Franks was once again the hurler and coasted all the way. Bob King was the fair-haired boy, rapping four baseknocks in five tries.

Remaining games are to be played against Hanover (2), Franklin (2), Cincinnati, Indiana Central, DePauw, and Wabash.

MEN'S INTRA-MURALS

The beginning of the new semester in the fall of 1940 saw an upswing in Intra-mural athletics. All schools and all classifications wanted to participate in some kind of athletic activity. Intra-murals was the answer.

The first problem met was limitation of intra-murals to the inexperienced athlete. A set of rules for intra-mural activities was drawn up and ratified by the interested parties. These rules made intra-murals the supply point for potential school athletes. Everyone agreed that this was a fine spirit to have and many predicted that this intra-mural program would aid our athletic program immeasurably.

The intra-mural program opened with a tennis tournament but this was finally called off because of a long period of bad weather. Soon after, however, the touch football season opened.

Pre-season dope found a strong Kappa Alpha team among the favorites. Looming large on the horizon however was the independent team known to campusites as the "Green Bay Slackers". This team boasted such lights as Chris Katope, Bob King, Howard Johnson and other fairly competent athletes. The resultant battle royal for the league championship found the Slackers the victors by 6-0. A new force had made itself felt in this season, however. The "Legal Eagles", a group of athletic minded law students had begun their campaign at this time. Headed by Dick Oldham and boasting many other fine athletes, this team showed itself to be a power to be reckoned with in future intra-mural games.

The close of the football season found the basketball season hard upon us and again speculation arose as to who would be the strongest. Teams were split off into several leagues. These included: a Fraternity League, a Speed School League, an Independent League, a Med-Dent League, all meeting finally for an All-University championship. In the Fraternity League, little but powerful B. T. X. defeated all comers as they took five straight to win their title. In the Speed League the victor was Theta Tau, in the Independent League a powerful Legal Eagle team tied with swift, fast Slackers while down at Med-Dent quarters Delta Sig Delt was victorious. It was apparent that the all campus title would go to either Legal Eagles or Slackers. The final result showed Slackers the victor in the final over Kappa Alpha. Outstanding in the Slackers' victory was "Rabbit" Reverman, former St. Xavier star who led the Slackers in scoring for the season and whose brilliant defensive work was the chief reason for the Slackers' victory.

The volleyball season followed quickly after the basketball season with no one even coming close to the Legal Eagles after they had dropped a single game to Newman Club. The Eagles were easy victors over Pyramid in the volleyball finals.

With the coming of spring, baseball is in the air. The next event to be run off is a softball tournament. Strong once again are B. T. X. and Newman Club, campus religious organizations. Other teams show exceptionally well and the season should be nip and tuck throughout.

A momentary look at the figures shows Kappa Alpha leading the other organizations in points with Theta Tau close behind. In close order follow the Legal Eagles with Slackers and B. T. X. just behind them. The winner of the sportsmanship award for Intra-murals this year will have a hard race to run.

FROSH ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The freshman football team, coached by John Heldman and Tom Leahy, former U. of L. girdder, was rated as one of the school's best in recent years. It held Centre College's yearlings, composed almost wholly of erstwhile high school captains, to a 6-6 tie for three quarters before faltering, 20-6. The squad trounced K. M. I. 32-0, and then whipped the Varsity Sophomores in their annual battle, 26-0.

From the frosh team, Art Phillips, towering end, Billy Clower, Sonny Bass and Bill Francis, tiny backs, and Earl Waltman, a guard, were expected to provide valuable material for the varsity.

Phillips weighs 210 pounds, stands 6 feet 3. The three backs are expected to provide the mainstay of the Cardinals' flea backfield, which Laurie Apitz is grooming for plenty of trick ball.

BASKETBALL

The 1940-41 freshman basketball season was hailed as the best for the University of Louisville in a decade. A juggernaut cage outfit, headed by Frank Epley, high scorer with a season's average of 18 points per game, practically made a clean sweep of its schedule. It lost only three games while winning 24.

Epley was ably assisted by Billy Harris, Joe Hutt, Frank Britt and Art "Tiny" Phillips, all of whom seemed destined to play major roles in the coming varsity basketball season.

The freshmen were coached by Laurie Apitz, who fired himself as Varsity Basketball Coach and gave the job to John Heldman, who tutored the frosh the year before.

Epley, whose spin and corner shots amazed fans as well as opposition teams, also reaped added honors when he received the Individual Player Award at the Mackin Tournament, which the freshman team entered after the conclusion of its regular season.

BASEBALL

Hampered by lack of pitching, the 1940 freshman baseball team won only two games, but gave the Varsity Rodney and Ralph Kissinger, outfielders, Billy Graham, a first baseman, and Orville Maish, a catcher. The team was coached by John Cechini.

Frosh diamond prospects appeared brighter in 1941. Cechini was assisted by Larry Boeck as coach. The team lost its first two games, mainly because of lack of practice, but displayed improvement as the season progressed. The Baby Birds were expected to make a clean sweep of the remainder of their schedule, which included tilts with the local high schools and K. M. I.

Joe Hutt's powerful bat led the team at the plate. The pitching staff was headed by Joe Krieger and Shad Boaz.

Coaches Cechini and Boeck estimated defense as the team's strongest point, but were worried over weak stick-work.

W.A.A. ANNUAL NEWS

A far more extensive program for the University of Louisville Women's Association of 1940-41 has been made possible by the coming of Miss Sue Hall, new physical education instructor who last fall replaced Mrs. Mary Shearer. Miss Hall majored in physical education at the U. of Nebraska where she was active in the W. A. A. there. Prior to her coming to the U. of L., Miss Hall took a year's graduate work at the U. of Southern California, and taught in Omaha, Neb., Sioux City, Iowa, U. of Minn., and Falls City, Neb. She had acted as advisor to the officers and cabinet of the W. A. A.

This fall, U. of L. joined a newly formed hockey league—The College League. Hockey is the only sport on the entire year's program which is not all, all U. of L. tournament. Members of this League are U. of L., Nazareth, and Ursaline. The leaders of this league hope to enlarge it in the future.

U. of L. finished second after the playoffs for first place tie. The final standings:

	WON	LOST	TIED
Ursaline	2	0	1
U. of L.	1	1	2
Nazareth	0	2	2

Peg Hughes, head of hockey, was also elected team captain. Those who played were: Libby Sengel, Virginia Durrett, Ruth Strull, Helen Hutchinson, Margaret Haskell, Ursa Linn Back, Ethel Krauss, Sherrill Ellmers, Dot Walker, Louise Lynch, Peg Hughes, Bea Rudolph, Elfrieda Feige, Alex Stuart, Janet Hughes, Mary Campbell, Tubby Lynch, Doris Gates, Carolyn Warner.

Elected to the Jefferson County honorary team were: Libby Sengel and Janet Hughes.

In connection with the regular hockey tourney, U. of L. acted as hostess to U. of Kentucky, Centre and Transylvania at a Hockey Playday, which these four colleges hope to enlarge and continue.

The U. of Ky. team defeated U. of L. 4-0 in the finals after having whipped Centre 13-0 in the first round. U. of L. earlier defeated Transylvania 5-0. A rainy chilly day, Nov. 30, was the setting for these four muddy hockey games. The U. of L. Home

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Economics Club prepared a luncheon which was served in the Alumni Rooms. Discussion as to how such a meet could be improved followed with a short program of welcome and songs.

Doris Reichenbach, head of hockey on the U. of Ky. W. A. A. cabinet, started the ball rolling for the hockey playday; she wrote to the U. of L. W. A. A. about her idea of a playday, saying that she hoped in this way to stimulate interest in hockey on her campus, which, in the fall, was mainly "football conscious."

With the aid of superb fall weather, the tennis tournament proceeded as far as the quarter finals when winter stepped in. The final matches were played in February in the Armory.

Stacy Hall, senior, defeated Mrs. Gladys Wrege; Mrs. Wrege took the first set 7-9 with Stacy taking the next two, 6-3 and 8-6. Mrs. Wrege defeated Edythe Lepping; and Stacy, Jane Martin in the semi-finals. Virginia Durrett managed the tennis tournament.

The volleyball tournament closed in a three-way tie for first place. Pi Beta Phi won the playoff by defeating Cardinalettes who had gained a victory over Sigma Kappa, the third team in the tie. Carolyn Warner managed this sport.

Members of the Pi Phi first place team were: Dorothy Cotton, Mary Jane Davis, Anne Mathews, Stacy Hall, Helen Jennings, Gail Omer, Alex Stuart, Peggy Hoblitzell, Pi Lynch, Sally Sandidge, and Genie Stuart, Captain.

Sigma Kappa won the Basketball tournament with six wins and no losses. Three teams tied for second spot—Cardinalettes, Chi Omega and the Independent team. Pi Phi came in third. Margaret Haskell was the head of basketball. The Sigma Kappa team members are: Jane Martin, Captain; Martha Ann Stark, Doris Bridges, Dorothy Strunk, Pat Heil, Mary Catherine McCormack, Edythe Lepping, guards; Betty Sue Bullock, Betty Kleinstark (high scorer of the tourney), Mary Ward Goddard, and Jane Krieger, forwards.

During the U. of L. basketball season, the W. A. A. had for the first time, received permission for the concessions on all the home games. Tubby Lynch acted as concessions chairman and was aided on the Wednesday night games by the cabinet and W. A. A. members. The girls sold hot dogs, candy, gum and soft drinks to patrons of the Cardinal netters.

Pi Beta Phi took first place in the first W. A. A. Bowling League. Opportunity was given to any girl to learn to bowl and, after two months' practice and instruction, a tournament was held, Shirley Conner heading this sport.

The Independent team was second with the Cardinalettes third. Members of the winning team were: Vance Lewman, Peggy Hoblitzell, captain; Margaret Hartman, Genie Stuart, Alex Stuart, and Margie Roe.

Beginning to arouse interest in the possibility of a golf club and a riding club was also in the plans of Miss Hall and the W. A. A. this year; it is hoped that next year will see these activities under way.

We are very sorry not to be able to report to you the outcome of the softball and ping pong tournaments now under way. Vance Lewman is head of softball and Margaret Hartman of ping pong. Also on the late spring program is the swimming meet which is in charge of Mary Walton Harris, last year's W. A. A. president.

U. of L.'s new Rifle Club is an independent club; many co-eds were active in it. Mary Eleanor Adamson was Vice-President and Nellie Ernst, Secretary. Members earning sweaters were Pat Daniels, Mary E. Adamson, Martha Morris, Nellie Ernst, and Alaine Mayer.

Pat Daniels acted as girls' sports reporter for the "Cardinal" from late November on, replacing Doris Bridges who took over the Feature Editorship. Kitty Newman, W. A. A. correspondent, wrote a monthly report of U. of L. W. A. A. activities for the State W. A. A. paper put out by Centre College.

U. of L. sent a team to the annual U. of Cincinnati Playday held in the Queen City. Defeating Miami of Oxford, Ohio, in volleyball by 15-13 was our team of: Libby Sengel, Ruth Strull, Vance Lewman, Peg Hughes, Tubby Lynch, Doris Bridges, Kitty Kenner, Jane Martin, Genie Stuart, Margaret Haskell, Shirley Conner. Our basketball team tied Our Lady of Cincinnati 10-10 in a furious match; playing were Lewman, Strull, Sengel, Martin, Hughes, Bridges, Stuart, Haskell, Kenner, and Lynch.

Our swimming came in fourth in its meet: Mary Walton Harris, Janice Johnson, Edythe Lepping, and Genie Stuart. Love Hartman and Shirley Conner lost in ping pong while Pi Lynch and Mary Walt lost in badminton and deck tennis.

U. C. gives this yearly playday in order to provide a program of sports for fun and not for competition's sake alone. Some of the colleges represented are: Oberlin, Antioch, Wittenberg, Miami, U. of Ky., St. Joseph's, Cedarville, Ohio Wesleyan, U. of Dayton, Our Lady of Cincinnati.

Lenore Knight Wingard, one-time Olympic champion gave a swimming exhibition which was followed by a water ballet exhibition of the U. C. team. At the end of the day a banquet was given in the U. C. Student Union Building; each school put on a skit. Peg Hughes and Shirley Conner authored a "Brenda and Cobina" skit in which Ruth Strull, Genie Stuart, Edythe Lepping and Margaret Haskell took part. Vance Lewman was chairman of the U. C. Playday.

Tubby Lynch, Vice-President of the U. of L. W. A. A., was elected to serve as second Vice-President of the 1941-42 Ky. W. A. A. The election took place at the State W. A. A. meet at Centre College, Danville, on March 22. U. of L. sent Tubby Lynch, Vance Lewman, Libby Sengel, Sherrill Ellmers, and Margaret Haskell. A sports program entertained the 70 delegates from these Kentucky colleges: U. of Ky., Transylvania, Union, Berea, Morehead, Centre, U. of L. and Georgetown. The new Ky. W. A. A. president is Doris Reichenbach of U. of Ky.

Individual members of the U. of L. W. A. A. work for the seals, "L" sweaters, and an "L" gold pin, while the team which, during the entire year's program has earned the most points, wins the annually presented President's cup. This is announced at the annual May Women's League Banquet along with the naming of the honorary varsity teams of each sport. For the first time last year, four cups were presented, one to the winning team of volleyball, basketball, swimming, and softball. At present the standings through the end of the basketball tournament, for the President's cup are:

	Total No. of Points
Pi Beta Phi	27
Independents	19
Cardinalettes	15
Sigma Kappa	15
Chi Omega	9
Delta Zeta	0
Zeta Tau Alpha	0
Kappa Delta	0

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The primary purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is organizing and promoting women's athletics on the campus. The organization is governed by a cabinet composed of 13 girls who meet at the beginning of the Fall term and draw up an athletic and social schedule for the year. The cabinet then meets once a week during the school year to discuss current problems which arise as the season progresses and to pick honorary varsities.

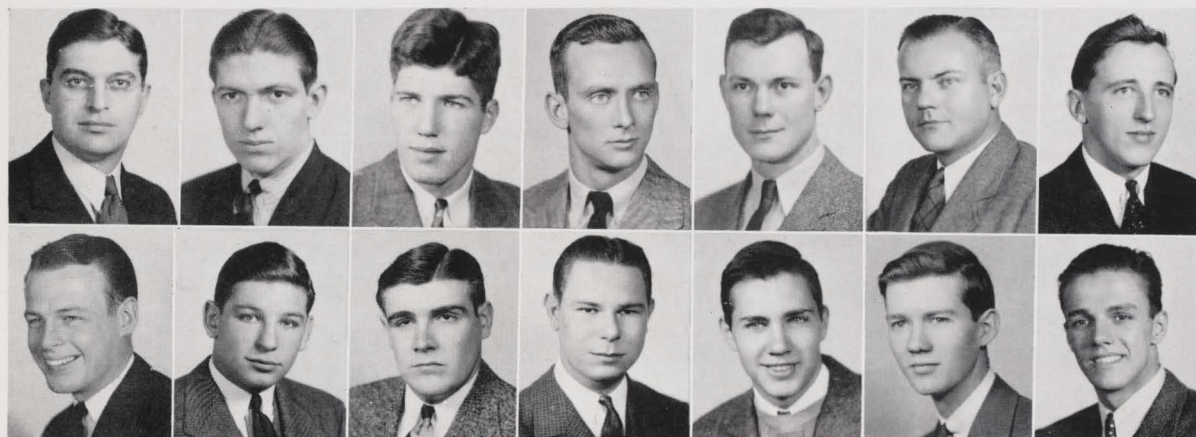

For participation in these sports girls are given points which accumulate until there is a total of 500 for which a seal is awarded. When 1000 points are earned an "L" sweater is given, and a small gold "L" pin is awarded for 1500 points.

This year we have undertaken many new projects and have participated in many intercollegiate as well as intramural activities. Our project this year has been to secure a ping pong table for the Women's Building.

The W.A.A. has been fortunate in having Miss Sue Hall as its adviser. She has brought us many grand ideas and has helped us in making the W.A.A. a dynamic organization.

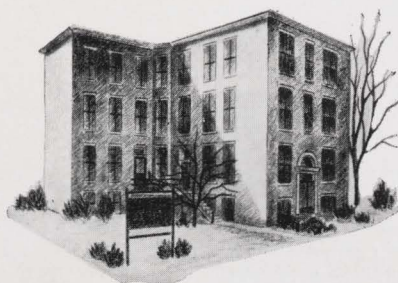

Every woman on the campus is eligible for membership, which can be obtained by paying 50 cents dues a year. This membership entitles a girl to participate in the W.A.A. athletic and social programs and to be eligible to vote and hold office.

In the fall of 1939 a small group of Jewish students on the campus decided that in order that they might get the most out of college life they should organize. The resultant decision was the formation of Beta Tau Chi. That same fall they became an official campus organization with a nucleus of 15 members. They organized on the principles of Brotherhood, Truth and Courage as signified by the letters of the name. With this nucleus the group has grown rapidly until well known. The organization now has 19 members and two alumni. Participation in campus activities is emphasized by the group and at present B.T.X. has two members on the football squad and two on the baseball squad. In intramural sports B.T.X. recently won its first championship in basketball and still is striving for athletic betterment in general. In scholarship B.T.X. has excelled in the past and is working hard for a great future of security and honor on and off the campus.

DELTA SIGMA FRATERNITY

Founded April 1, 1919.

The first meeting of Delta Sigma Fraternity was held on April 1, 1919. Dr. Hirzer was appointed temporary chairman, officers were elected, the constitution was adopted, and the ritual accepted.

Because of the opposition to Greek letter fraternities at that time the strictest secrecy had to be maintained. Aware of the blockade to fraternities, charter members sought help from two members of the faculty itself, Dr. A. W. Homberger and Dean B. M. Brigman. It was decided in March, 1921, to strike the telling blow on the attitude of the officials of the University. On March 26, 1921, after two years and a day of intensive cam-paing, Delta Sigma was recognized as the first Greek letter fraternity at the University of Louisville.

The first student publication, the Cardinal, was a result of the effort of this organization. After twenty years of success have flown by, Delta Sigma takes pride in looking over the records and accomplishments of its every member. Presidents of classes, governing bodies, clubs, honorary fraternities and societies, editors of school publications, captains and managers of almost every athletic team in the school, winners of scholarship prizes, and last, but not least, a winner of a Rhodes Scholarship, the only one ever to win this award from the University of Louisville, are some of the distinctive honors claimed by Delta Sigma men.

Delta Alpha was organized in the fall of 1940 by a group of students, comprising members of the Orchestra, Band and Chorus. Officers were elected, the constitution written and adopted, and plans for musical activities were immediately put under way.

The first official performance was at the Speed Music Room on March 6, 1941 (a sneak preview was held at the City Arts Club on the evening of Sunday, March 2nd). One more appearance for the year is scheduled, and the fraternity is growing in strength and has prospects for a more active year in 1941-42.

PI BETA PHI

Regal is the word for Genie Stuart, Pi Phi junior chosen Miss Thoroughbred of 1941 at the Thoroughbred dance, April 4. The judges, who were competent Louisville artists, titled her Genie the Queenie as she walked by. The competition was stiff but Genie proved that she wasn't as she walked away with the horseshoe of roses and the title.

The Student Council of the College of Liberal Arts is more than a representative body of students; it is the culmination of an attempt on the part of the College to inculcate into the students a sense of civic responsibility necessary to make them worthy members of the community. Through the medium of the Council the student body actively enters into the solving of its own problems; the Council is, therefore, the agency which unites the naturally heterogeneous student body in a common purpose: that of self-government.

In the pursuance of this objective the Student Council renders a wide variety of services both to the students and to the University. Its chief function is the regulation and administration of student activities and University functions. It supervises student organizations and social events sponsored by them. It endeavors to promote better social relations among the students and between the student body and the faculty. It attempts to provide for the needs of the students insofar as this is within its ability.

The Student Council of the School of Law has heeded the advice given by Dean Neville Miller in 1933, "As a matter of fact the entire discipline of the student body could be handled by the Council." With the splendid co-operation of the Law School faculty and student body a happy medium has been attained in working out school and student problems. Since moving to Belknap Campus in May, 1939, the Council's duties have increased tremendously.

The purpose of this organization is to regulate student affairs, and to represent the student body in matters of mutual interest to the faculty, administration, and students.

The Council is composed of 17 members, namely, one representative from each of the four professional societies, i e.,

A. I. Ch. E., A. S. C. E., A. I. E. E., and the A. S. M. E.; three representatives from the senior class; two representatives from each section of the junior and sophomore classes; and two representatives from the freshman class. Officers must be seniors. They are elected by majority vote of the Council.

A. I. Ch. E.

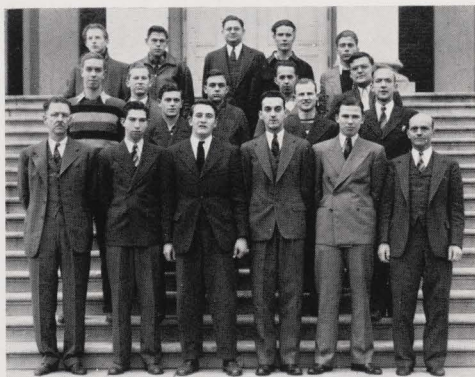

The University of Louisville Student Branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers had its beginning in the fall of 1925, when the Chemical Engineering Society of Speed Scientific School was organized at the suggestion of Dr. R. C. Ernst, the present counsellor. At that time the membership totaled twelve, and this small group formed the pioneering nucleus of what is now a membership of ninety. Growth was steady from the first, and when the application was made for a student branch of the A. I. Ch. E. late in 1933, the membership had risen to 25, and the activities and prominence of the organization had increased markedly. The installation of the chapter was early in 1934.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers is the national organization representing the electrical engineering profession, and now has a membership of more than 16,000, having been founded in 1884 and incorporated in 1896. The objects of the institute are the advancement of the theory and practice of electrical engineering and of the allied sciences and arts, and the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members.

The principal purpose of a Student Branch is to function as an organization under the auspices of the Institute for aiding in the development of the latent abilities of students, primarily by affording opportunities for them to carry on activities quite similar in nature to those which are carried on by the Institute members, such as the holding of meetings, the presentation and discussion of papers, reports, abstracts, etc., participation in inspection trips to places of engineering interest, etc.

The University of Louisville Student Branch is one of 120 such branches throughout the country and was established in 1928 with 29 members.

Each year a conference of all the Southern District Student Branches is held at one of the engineering schools in this district. For the past two consecutive years this branch has won national recognition by winning prizes on technical papers presented at these Southern District Conventions by students of this branch.

In April of 1938 "The Intrados" became affiliated with the American Society, which is the oldest National Engineering Society in the United States, having been instituted in 1852. The Society has 15,459 members in 63 local sections and 5,467 student members in 119 Student Chapters throughout the country.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers' Student Branch at the University of Louisville is a part of an association of Student Mechanical Engineers of leading engineering schools in the United States and its possessions, now numbering a membership of more than 4,500.

The U. of L. Student Branch has grown rapidly since its beginning in 1921, and this year the enrollment is 60, as compared to 37 for the previous year.

The Society provides outside speakers and educational movies for its members. In addition, this organization promotes and finances worthwhile student inspection tours.

The Biology Club

The Biology Club was organized in 1928, for the purpose of offering both social and scientific activities for the students interested in the biological sciences. Bi-monthly luncheon meetings are held throughout the school year at which prominent speakers, selected from the medical profession and the field of biology and the natural sciences, are asked to address the members.

The Biology Club also provides informal extra-curricular activities in the form of parties, dances, and socials for both active members and their invited guests.

This organization has the largest membership of any departmental club on the campus. It is our hope that the work of this club will be continued by the forthcoming members.

The Chemistry Club of the University of Louisville is the oldest departmental club in the University. It was founded by the head of the Chemistry Department, Dr. A. W. Homerger, twenty-three years ago. When the original members of the club were graduated, they formed a Chemistry Alumni Club, which is still in existence today. In the early days of the club, meetings were held at Medical School at 4:00 p.m., but now, meetings are held twice a month in the Chemistry Library.

The national honorary German Fraternity, Delta Phi Alpha, seeks to honor excellence in German and thereby to give students an incentive for higher scholarship.

The fraternity aims to promote the study of the German language, literature, and civilization. And it shall be its steadfast purpose to further an interest in and a better understanding of the German nation, and to foster a sympathetic appreciation of German culture.

The Newman Club movement was begun at the University of Pennsylvania in 1893. Since that time over two hundred clubs have been founded and united for the Newman Club Federation. At the University of Louisville the club was founded in 1937.

The club has a three-fold program—religious, intellectual and social. Membership is open to all Catholic students attending the University of Louisville, and constitutes a cross-section of the student body.

The Pallas Club is a Senior honorary organization for women. It was founded in 1931 to give recognition to women outstanding in scholastic achievement and campus leadership. Members are elected in the class of the Junior year. The organization attempts to render service to the University in every way possible. On November 29, 1931, it sponsored the first annual All-University Tag Sale to supplement the Joseph Steiger Memorial Student Loan Fund.

Each year the club presents an award to the Freshman woman who best exemplifies the ideals for which the organization stands.

Because of its natural appeal to all thinking and wide awake people the International Relations Club has gradually outgrown the limitations of being primarily a Liberal Arts club and now draws its members from the whole University Community. This organization has no special 'axe-to-grind' but seeks to understand all points of view. This objective is furthered by having prominent speakers at luncheon and dinner meetings, and by holding informal discussions. Among the speakers this year, were Dr. E. J. Wahl, leader of the Monarchist Movement in Austria and personal friend of Archduke Otto; and Captain Edward B. Hitchcock, European Editorial Manager of the Christian Science Monitor, and personal aide and official biographer of President Benes of Czechoslovakia.

Any student enrolled in the University of Louisville is an associate member of the Players. They are not classified as active members until they have achieved one hundred and twenty-five credit points of work in the Playhouse. Present active members are Jeffry Wallach, Morty Rothenberg, Mary Edna Meyer, Seaton Hunter, Tyree Dugger, Langdon de Bruyn Kops, Maucie Miller, Ewing Arnn, Helen Keith Ransdell, Lawrence Lehnhardt, Virginia Powell, Margaret Schujahn, Martha Doll, and Esther Schlossberg.

The University of Louisville Players were first organized as a club in 1911. It was in the season of 1913-1914, however, that Mr. Boyd Martin was appointed director of the organization, and he has continued in that position ever since. Mr. Martin, who is known to all the Players as "Pop", is not only the director in the sense that he directs the actual stage action of the plays but also he is the mainspring of the entire organization.

Of all the plays that have been produced by the players in the twenty-seven seasons that he has been with them "Pop" says that his favorites include "You Never Can Tell", the first play that was presented by the Players under his direction, "Pillars of Society", "Seventeen", "The Dover Road", "Children of the Moon", "Paolo and Francesca", "Othello", "Just Suppose", and "Romeo and Juliet". Another of Mr. Martin's favorites was an original play by Rollo Wayne called "Anchors" and presented in the season of 1927-1928. Mr. Martin's present ambition is to have a new Playhouse, the plans of which he has already designed.

During this past season the Players presented as their first production "Nine Pine Street", a play by John Colton and Carlton Miles. The plot was woven around the famous Lizzie Borden murder case. The second production of the season was "Sorority House" by Mary Coyle Chase, a story which was written on the campus of The University of Denver and which presented the problems of rush week both from the view of the student and the sorority. "Outward Bound" by Sutton Vane was received by the critics as the best dramatic interpretation that the Players have done in recent years. It was the third production of the season. At the time of this printing tryouts are being held for "The Poor Nut" by J. C. and Elliott Nugent, the last production of the twenty-seventh season of the University of Louisville Players.

When Sigma Tau was organized, its founders, summarizing the opinions of a number of employers, found that employers asked first for health and character, second for judgment, and third for technical training in the prospective employee. The founders, realizing the wisdom of these opinions, decided to incorporate these qualifications for membership. They are:

1. Scholarship.
2. Practicality.
3. Sociability.

Because Sigma Tau is an honorary fraternity with true engineering ideals, the qualities of practicality and sociability are considered of the same importance as scholarship.

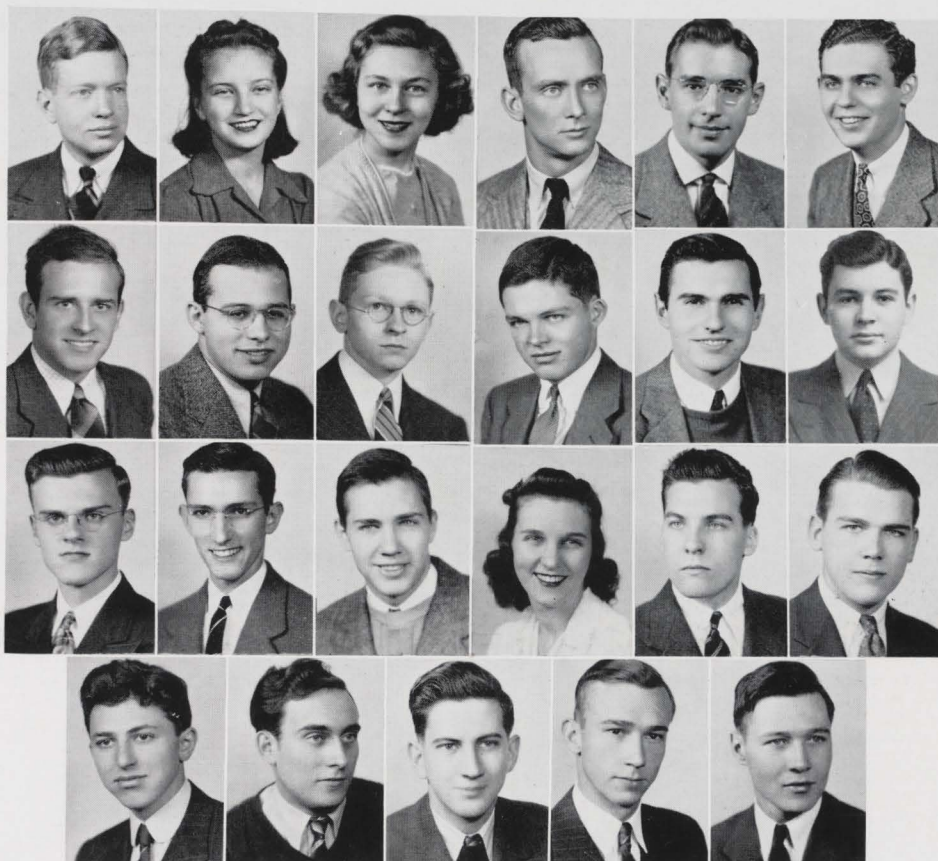

In scholarship, the candidate shall rank among the upper third of the eligible men as determined by the weighted average obtained from the official school records.

Practicality is to be a measure of the capability of the man to apply his engineering knowledge in the solution of practical problems.

Sociability shall be the measure of the public-spiritedness of the man.

It is believed that every engineer should possess these qualifications.

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Theta Chi Delta was chartered November 14, 1934, on the University of Louisville Campus. This fraternity is a purely honorary chemical organization open only to chemical majors and chemical engineers who have completed three terms of chemistry with a minimum 2.00 standing and who have a minimum

1.50 standing in other work, excluding chemistry. The aims of the fraternity are: To foster the interest of chemistry on the campus and elsewhere; to aid its members to maintain their standings; and to help other students with their chemical work in any way possible.

The University of Louisville Women's League was founded in December, 1908. Its purpose is to regulate all matters pertaining to the student life of its woman members which do not fall under the jurisdiction of the faculty and to bring about greater unity and mutual helpfulness among the women of the University.

All women students of the University who pay required dues are active members and eligible to vote and to hold office.

The organization is governed by a council consisting of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, who are elected each spring by active members and one representative from each of the undergraduate classes and representatives from each of the following organizations: Pallas Club, W.A.A., Y.W.C.A., The Home Economics Club, and sometimes science organizations.

On the campus the Women's League establishes and strengthens traditions and customs serving to solidify campus life. One project is freshman orientation and a tea for entering freshman women. The organization sponsors a vice-versa dance, the proceeds from which go to furnishing the Women's Building and to make it a more presentable place for U. of L. Co-eds. The organization also attempts to improve student-faculty relationship by giving an annual tea for the faculty. It holds luncheons, at which speakers discuss matters of interest, and an annual banquet each spring, at which time all honors to be won by Co-eds for the following year are announced.

The Women's League is grateful to Dean Hilda Threlkeld and to her assistant, Mary Louise Chase, whose understanding and co-operation as advisors have been invaluable.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. of the University of Louisville is to build a fellowship of women students devoted to the task of realizing those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians.

The Organization draws its membership and leadership from all denominations and all campus groups. It is non-denominational, campus centered, but definitely a Christian movement.

A luncheon meeting is held monthly, at which time there is presented a program that carries out the year's theme. For the year 1940-41, the theme is "Abundant Living." Throughout the year special socials are given for new freshmen, for our sponsors, and for the whole membership.

Official student newspaper of the University of Louisville, Cardinal was first published on September 16, 1932, succeeding the old Louisville News. During the first two years of existence, professional school students occupied the majority of staff positions. Since 1934, however, with the removal of the office to Belknap Campus, Liberal Arts students have edited the paper with other schools contributing.

During the school year 1940-1941, Cardinal, a weekly publication, varied from four to eight pages of five columns each. It numbers a circulation of approximately 2,500 copies. All U. of L. students, taking a minimum of 12 credit hours, receive the paper.

First editor of Cardinal was Charles DeSpain, 1932-1932½. He was succeeded by J. J. Crumley, 1932½-1933. Other editors: Edmund Baxter, 1933-1934; Leon Schlossberg, 1934-1935; Lewis M. Cohen, 1935-1936; Robert N. Kelso, Jr., 1936-1937; William A. Stephenson, 1937-1938; Rhodes Jackson, 1938-1939; and William S. Ray, 1939-1940.

The University

Literary publication of the University of Louisville, University is published five times during the school year with a circulation of 2,500. University is U. of L.'s outlet for undergraduate literary talent in any form that it may be manifested.

During the school year 1940-1941 the Liberal Arts creative writing classes under Dr. Harvey Curtis Webster fell heir to the publication as an experimental medium. The arrangement, proving satisfactory, is regarded as permanent. Edward Morris was selected by the class as editor-manager for 1940-1941.

University was first issued in the fall of 1936 as a joint student-alumni journal, edited by Thomas A. Bledsoe. He was succeeded the following year by Juanita Weyler.

In the fall of 1938, the Alumni Association withdrew its funds from the magazine's budget, feeling that a publication of its own would better suffice its needs. Since this date the magazine has been entirely an undergraduate publication. William A. Pate and Jesse James Tronic edited the magazine during 1938-1939 and Avrom A. Isaacs was editor for 1939-1940.

Division of Adult Education

The largest unit of the University, from the point of enrollment, is the Division of Adult Education or evening school. The Division organizes and administers courses through any school of the University in which there is a need for class work of a specialized nature.

Currently, classes are being given in the College of Liberal Arts, the Speed Scientific School, the School of Music, and the Graduate School. In practically all instances this work carries regular credit which can be applied toward the degrees given in the respective Schools. In addition to this, two specialized programs are being conducted on a non-credit basis. These are the shop courses given for industrial workers, and the ground school instruction of the Civilian Pilot Training Program. This latter is sponsored by the Federal Government.

The Division's students comprise an extremely interesting and heterogeneous group. They range in age from 17 to 70 years and come from all economic, social and occupational levels. From the unemployed youth to the retired business man; from the lowly clerk to the superintendent; from the unskilled laborer to the highly trained professional man—goes the unending variation in student personnel.

The reasons why people attend evening school also vary greatly. The largest group are interested primarily in vocational training but surprisingly large numbers are working for undergraduate and graduate degrees and for Certificates in fields of specialized study. About 10% to 15% attend classes for the sheer joy of studying something. Others are studying pre-professional subjects.

Other interesting facts about the student body are: there are twice as many men as women enrolled; about 60% of the number enrolled each fall are new students.

One significant feature of the Division's program is the in-service training which it provides for public employees. For the current year over two hundred thirty employees of the city, county, state and federal governments—exclusive of school teachers—were enrolled in its classes.

Graduate Division of Social Administration

A PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

The Division offers a one-year graduate curriculum leading to a provisional professional certificate.

The Division offers a two-year graduate curriculum leading to the professional degree of Master of Science in Social Administration.

The social work field includes public assistance, child welfare, family welfare, probation, parole, settlement work, club leadership, hospital social service, psychiatric social service, etc.

The training program in Louisville includes supervised Field Work in The Municipal Bureau of Social Service, The Family Service Organization, The Children's Agency, Louisville and Jefferson County Children's Home, the City Hospital, Neighborhood House, and the Mental Hygiene Clinic.

A limited number of Scholarships are granted to full-time students in the Division.

Graduates are qualified for positions in public welfare or private agencies. Their skills include social case work, community organization, group work, social research and administration.

One hundred per cent of the School's graduates hold good positions in Louisville, in Kentucky, or in other states.

The Division is a fully accredited member of the American Association of Schools of Social Work.

WEBER EQUIPMENT

The Dental Equipment of Dignity and High Utility Value

FORTY-ONE years ago, the Founder of our Company invented and originated the Fountain Water Spittoon, and later developed the first combination of unit equipment ever introduced for use by the dental profession.

The policy of the Weber Company has always been that of constructive advancement and fair price maintenance. No greater value is to be found in dental equipment than is found in the Weber line of today.

The following services are at the command of all dental students, free of charge:

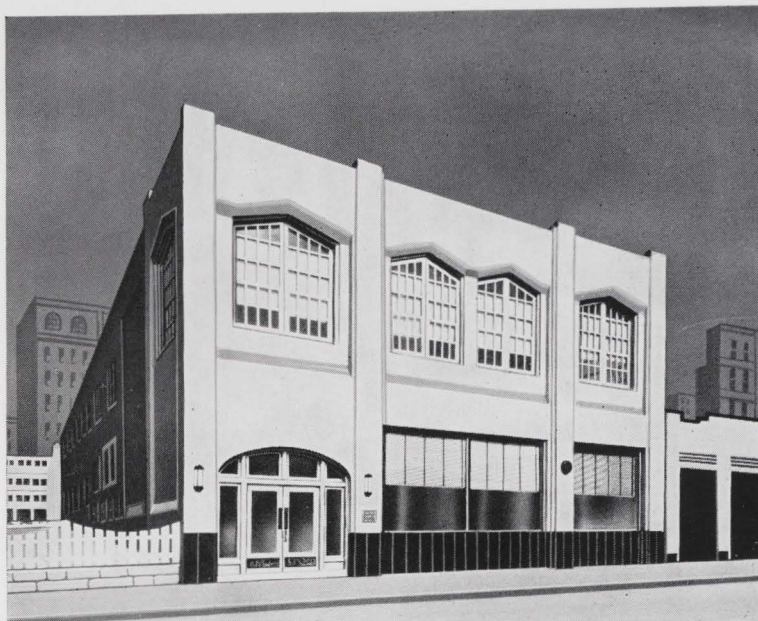

Office Planning and Office Decorating
 Location Analysis
 Practice Counselling
 Individual Helps and Instructions

A complete set of 10 Counselling Brochures supplied each purchaser of Weber Equipment, delivered each month during the first year, when most needed.

All equipment sold on liberal terms and endorsed by first line dealers everywhere. Don't be satisfied until you have inspected the complete line Weber has to offer.

EXPLOITATION of the MEDICAL PROFESSION

EVERYWHERE it is rampant—newspapers, magazines, billboards, radio. "Your doctor will tell you that . . ." "Medical science has found that . . ." "The greatest specialists in Timbuctoo say that . . ." And the rest of the story is, of course, "Use our pills or our vitamins three times a day; ask your doctor."

You are forced to compete with those who offer your patients free advice regarding medical treatment. You deliver Mrs. Blank's baby today, and tomorrow she will receive by mail samples of baby foods with complete directions how to use them. Indeed, some physician representing a commercial organization and knowing that the case is in your hands may address a personal letter to your patient offering his services free.

It has been said that ten more years of the present trend of interference in medical practice will do away with the need for private practice of infant feeding and other branches of medicine.

Mead Johnson & Company have always believed that the feeding and care of babies and growing children is an individual problem that can best be controlled by the individual physician. For over twenty years and in dozens of ethical ways we have given practical effect to this creed.

So long as medical men tacitly encourage the present trend, so long will serious inroads continue to be made into private medical practice. When more physicians specify MEAD'S Products* when indicated, more babies will be fed by physicians because Mead Johnson & Company earnestly cooperate with the medical profession along strictly ethical lines and never exploit the medical profession.

★ Dextri-Maltose Nos. 1, 2, and 3; Dextri-Maltose With Extracts of Wheat Embryo and Yeast; Mead's Viosterol in Oil; Mead's Cod Liver Oil With Viosterol; Mead's Standardized Cod Liver Oil; Pablum; Mead's Cereal; Mead's Brewers Yeast (powder and tablets); Mead's Powdered Lactic Acid Milk Nos. 1 and 2; Alacta; Mead's Powdered Protein Milk; Casec; Sobee; Mead's Halibut Liver Oil; Mead's Viosterol in Halibut Liver Oil (liquid and capsules); Oleum Percomorphum (liquid and capsules); Mead's Cod Liver Oil Fortified With Percomorph Liver Oil; Olac; Mead's Mineral Oil With Malt Syrup; Mead's Ascorbic Acid Tablets; Mead's Thiamine Hydrochloride Tablets; Mead's Nicotinic Acid Tablets.

YOU WIN TWO WAYS WITH RALEIGH

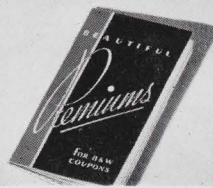

FIRST—you get a better cigarette. Raleighs are a blend of no less than thirty-one carefully selected grades of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. They come with plain ends or cork tips, yet they cost not a penny more than any other popular-priced brand.

SECOND—there's a valuable coupon on every pack, and extra coupons in each carton. These coupons are good in the United States for cash, or for even greater value in premiums you'd really like to have. Try a pack of Raleighs today!

COUPONS ON EVERY PACK...GOOD FOR PREMIUMS LIKE THESE

Poker Set—Case, chips and 2 decks of cards—800 coupons; case alone—325.

FREE. Write for illustrated B & W premium catalog, new edition No. 18. Address the Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation, Box 599, Louisville Kentucky.

Glassware—latest banded. 6 highball, or 6 tea, or 6 old fashioned—100 coupons.

TUNE IN "Paul Sullivan Reviews the News," every evening Monday through Friday, coast-to-coast CBS Network.

B & W COUPONS ALSO PACKED IN RALEIGH & VICEROY CIGARETTES & BIG BEN SMOKING TOBACCO

T THROUGHOUT THE PAGES OF THIS BOOK, THE THOROUGHbred STAFF HAS TRIED TO PRESENT A GRAPHIC CROSS-SECTION OF UNIVERSITY LIFE IN THE DIFFERENT SCHOOLS. WE HOPE THAT THE CLASS OF '41 WILL FIND THIS ANNUAL A CONVENIENT AND INTERESTING MEMORY BOOK.

we wish to express our thanks to the following for their various kindnesses to us:

to morton grodzins for his constant inspiration, helpful knowledge, and for getting behind us and pushing. Without him there would have been no 1941 thoroughbred.

to our photographers, b. c. and eugene beckmann for their splendid cooperation under trying conditions.

to willard baysinger, dick fusting and tony kimmel of the fetter printing co. for excellent advice and cooperation.

to pat ropke, "hunky" ransdell, alfred berg, bettysue comp-ton, ewing arnn, and clyde moore of the thoroughbred staff for their timely assistance when the pressure was on and "the chips were down."

to the rest of the thoroughbred staff for doing the thousand and one details without which no annual is complete.

and to our advertisers for their gracious generosity. in the final analysis, it is they who have made this 1941 edition of the thoroughbred an actuality instead of a dream.
